Oregon Normal School Crowded.
The steady arrival of students at the Oregon Normal school has increased the enrollment from 425 to 520, exceeding all expectations of the faculty. The class rooms are becoming congested, as they did at the summer session last year. One thousand students are expected by President Ackerman for the coming summer session.

R. D. Jennings Has Good Job.
R. D. Jennings, former operator of the Southern Pacific at Dallas, has been appointed as commercial agent of that company at Spokane. The company has just established the Spokane agency because of the importance of Spokane and the immense rich mineral, timber and agricultural territory tributary to it. Mr. Jennings has also been traveling freight agent under H. A. Hinshaw at Portland, and his appointment follows the policy of the company in making its promotions from men in its service and is an example of opportunities that exist today in railroad service. Mr. Jennings was located in Dallas four years ago and has also served the company at Albany, Junction City, Gaston and Hillsboro.
