Read At The Last Meeting of the Ladies Club.

The Ladies' Club, of Monmouth, is entering upon the sixth year of its existence. It first met in May, 1903, and was organized the following month as the Lewis and Clark Club of Monmouth with a small membership. Mrs. Fisher and Miss Maggie Butler were elected president and secretary. At subsequent meetings new members were added and, at the election in November, 1904, Miss Butler was chosen president. The Club worked for and sent an exhibition to the fair. Its object being then attained, it adjourned indefinitely, June 10, 1905, the last meeting being a most delightful one, held on the lawn at the president's home.

The gatherings had proven so enjoyable that when a meeting was called by the president in October to consider reorganization, it was unanimously agreed to continue the club under a new name. In due time it was decided to form a book club, each member contributing one book a year, the books being circulated among the members. The number was limited to 26 and two meetings appointed for each month. The members were grouped into sections of four each, so that it fell to each section to entertain the others once a year.

These regulations, with a few changes, have continued for three years, one business and one social meeting occurring each month. For most of the former, short literary programs have been prepared. The entertainments have shown interest, variety and ingenuity. St. Valentine, the Father of his country, All Hallowe'en, Thanksgiving, Christmas and other festivals have had their share of attention. Several new members have joined the club at various times and are worthy of especial mention. They have taken an active part, their participation in voting being done altogether viva voce. Charlotte and Milton Rice are no longer with us but Hazel Robinson is a loyal member and the very newest one is William Riddell, Jr. Herbert Powell is the only other gentleman who is privileged to attend regularly.

Each year there have been several vacancies caused by families moving from town. To the charter members who are present, it may be pleasant to recall some who have left us in the last five years. Greetings to the Club have come from one and another of them, from the east, from California and from all parts of Oregon. Mrs. Fisher was among the first to leave. Mrs. Snelling soon returned to Lakeview. In the following two years there were several changes. Mrs. Mahoney returned to Massachusetts, Mrs. Neal went to California and Mrs. Rice to Portland. Miss Snelling is now with her niece at Seaside, Mrs. P. O. Powell resigned on account of ill health. During the last year we have lost from our number Mrs. Sicafoose, Mrs. A. F. Campbell, Mrs. Pennell, Mrs. Retta Powell and Miss Smith. Though these members are missed the vacancies are quickly filled, for the club speeds the parting and welcomes the coming members. So far as is known a friendly and kindly spirit prevails. To the President who has been again unanimously re-elected, hearty thanks are due for her faithfulness, loyalty and interest in her duties and especially for looking out for and keeping difficulties out of the road.

The club now consists of about thirty members, including active, social and honorary, all of whom will help to make another successful year, which will bring much pleasure, a little profit and, above all, friendly intercourse among all concerned.

(Continued from page one) on account of errors. The visiting team soon carried the ball into their end of the field but it was returned to the home end before the end of the first half. The second half was practically a repetition of the first half as far as playing was concerned.

Both Capt. Stump and F. M. Phelps deserve special mention for good playing. The game ended with a score of 0 to 0. The lineup was as follows:

The "Chalk Talk" recital, by Mr. H. W. Sparks, mentioned in the supplement of last issue is to be given in the Normal Assembly Hall Saturday evening at 8:15 Nov. 14. This is given by the management of The Courier. Owing to the failure of one Engraving Company to get their cuts to the printer on time, the June commencement issue did not get out until a week after commencement, losing the commencement sales thus leaving the issue some fifty dollars behind. This amount must be met as well as the putting out of our regular issues this year. Hence we make special appeal to the students and citizens. We believe this recital will prove highly pleasing and worthy in itself, thus have no hesitancy in requesting the fullest patronage from the public.
