Death of Jacob Brown

Jacob Brown died Tuesday afternoon at the home of his niece, Mrs. Ethel Jones near Independence. He was born at Whitewater, Indiana, Aug. 13, 1840 and came to Oregon about 25 years ago. The cause of his death was dropsy, from which he had been a sufferer for years. He had made his home with Mrs. Jones for the past four years. He leaves a grandson and six nieces to mourn his death. He was the last of three brothers, who together with a wife and four children have preceded him to the Silent Land. Uncle Jake, as he was familiarly known to all his friends, was a very patient sufferer and through the long years of his illness did not complain. Interment was had Wednesday afternoon in the Monmouth cemetery.
