J. B. V. Butler will take a trip into eastern Oregon in the near future. He expects to visit Prineville and the Harney valley during his journeyings.

Next Tuesday night is the regular election of the Commercial Club. A good attendance should be present as it is expected to adjourn until fall and arrangements will be made to that effect.

Don't fail to take advantage of our offer of the Pacific Monthly and the Herald for $1.65 for one year for both papers. The Pacific Monthly is $1.50 by itself, thus you virtually get this paper for 15 cents.

Thomas Hampton and family arrived from Pendleton the latter part of last week. Mr. Hampton returned the fore part of this week to look after his harvesting operations and the remainder of the family will visit relatives here for awhile.

The Herald job office has just finished up 5000 folders for Cummins & Davis, the hustling real estate agents of Independence. These gentlemen appreciate good work as well as a number of other Independence people, especially when it is done at living rates.

In the recent prize distribution of savings accounts made by the Portland Journal, Frances Quisenberry received ten dollars, which she placed on deposit in the Polk County Bank. This will be a nice little nest egg to add to and make a snug sum by the time she becomes of age.

Tuesday evening June 22, Rev. Hoover united in marriage E. V. Molkie and Miss Ellen Leonard, both of Seattle. They have been visiting the past week with F. W. Bluhm, of the Monmouth Creamery. Mr. Molkie and Miss Leonard played a little joke on their Washington friends by quietly slipping away to Oregon and getting married and will surprise them on their return. Mr. Molkie is a cousin of Mr. Bluhm, whom he had not seen for 25 years. They will visit relatives at Turner before returning home.

Misses Sadie and Dora Craven are spending the week in Portland.

The Summer School is now in full blast and the town is full of school ma-ams.

Miss Susie Whitcomb returned Saturday from a short visit with friends in Portland.

Mrs. Chatman, of West Salem, spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Byers.

Henry Smith, of Lewisville, was a business visitor in the city the fore part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Meador came down from Eugene the fore part of the week and are visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Heffley and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Mills, and daughter Grace, spent Thursday in Salem.

It pays to advertise in the Herald. Dell Butler advertised a span of horses for sale last week and they have been sold.

Milton Force went to Portland the fore part of the week where he has accepted a position with Woodard, Clarke & Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeArmond, of north of Independence, took dinner with Mrs. R. H. Simpson one day this week.

Miss Edith Stoddard left Tuesday for her home in Hubbard, after spending two weeks visiting with friends in Independence and Monmouth.

Rev. W. A. Wood has returned from the Convention at Turner and informs the Herald that there will be preaching both morning and evening at the Christian church, Sunday July 4.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Force and a number of friends went to Turner Sunday to attend the meeting there. They returned by way of Salem and report a pleasant trip and some fine roads traveled over.

The Willamette Valley Co., has extended its power circuit down Broad street one block south of the Polk County Bank and from thence to Griffa's well where a motor is now doing duty pumping water for city use.

Miss Effie Shore is able to be out on the street after a couple of weeks severe experience with carbuncles. She has been confined to her bed ever since Commencement, but is rapidly regaining her usual avoirdupois.

A jolly crowd consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Warfel, of Baker City, Mr. and Mrs. Mills and daughter, of Indiana, Misses Edith Stoddard, of Hubbard, Velma and Gertrude Heffley took their lunch and spent the day Saturday above Falls City.

The Independence cannery will not be operated this year. This will make a considerable difference in the income of the farmers of near there, as they could market a large amount of vegetables if the cannery were in operation. However the season has been so cold as to make profitable tomato and pumpkin growing questionable.

J. H. Hawley returned Monday from a visit to the farm near McCoy and reports everything looking fine except that the clover crop will be short. Hawley & Son have a crop of oats growing on land that has produced crops for the past fifty years, that looks as well as any crop ever raised on the same land. Thrifty dark green in color with a fine stand that will yield heavily.

It is the intention of the management of the cannery to begin work Monday on cherries and berries of various kinds. The outlook is good for a fair amount of all kinds considering the season. An experienced foreman from California has been employed and has been getting things in shape this week. The cannery did well last year and the prospect for a fairly good season's run is bright.

Dell Butler has been busy this week installing motors. First in Chamberlin's butcher shop, then in the Herald office and the little motor that has here ofore done duty in the printing office will be used by P. H. Johnson in manufacturing gas for his lighting and heating plant. This makes six electric motors in the town, with a big one yet to be installed in the flouring mill when it is finished. More will be put in in the near future and yet we hear no end to kicking when we talk of putting in a lighting plant of our own.

John Bozynska intended going to Walla Walla last week, but when he got to Independence he was a little late and the train had started. He made a run for it, but being encumbered with a heavy grip the train got under good headway before he caught up with it. He caught hold of the front handhold of the last car and was jerked under the car narrowly missing being run over. He was pretty badly frightened and gave up his trip, preferring to sell apple trees in this land of safety to risking getting killed while traveling away from it.
