A bold, bad man on a bicycle passed through here yesterday bound for Willamina. He had a piece of heavy artillery strapped to the bicycle, but we were unable to learn whether it was a Maxim, Nordenfeldt or Babcock test. In his belt he carried a Colt Automatic on one side and a short sword and tomahawk on the other. He came from the south and his cyclometer showed he traveled over 300 miles. It is thought he may have wintered in the mammoth caves of southern Oregon and is getting ready to hold up a train on the Harriman all-Coast system.

Has Had Experience.

Again, the yellow newspapers and other agitators over the country are taking on renewed signs of Japonitis. The are going to monkey around until it will be necessary for us to lambaste those little well done Japs to a hard boiled finish. (We say well done because they are brown.) Well anyhow, the Japanese race is about to take place. Already the little curs are Nippin' at Uncle Sam's heels over in Hawaii and the first thing they know Uncle will kick seven kinds of liver out of the whole bunch just to give their lights a better opportunity to work.

In years gone by we used to inveigh and declaim against the poor John Chinaman. Why, gentle reader, (we call you gentle reader because it sounds literary like) a Chinaman is an angel from Heaven compared to a Jap.

A Chinaman is partly honest but a Japanese is as far removed from honor as Bryan is from the President's chair. If twenty widows and seventeen orphans and an ostrich were dependent upon a miserable Jap, he would throw every one of them down and hiss in their faces at their credulity. That is the kind of a hairpin a Jap is now and forever.

Japs are about as judgment proof as a worn out automobile. A judgment in a court of justice against a Jap would be about as valuable and as feasible as serving a summons for divorce on a lop-eared coyote on his way to dinner. They are undoubtedly the flimflamers and bunco-steers of the Orient—the short card men and the pea shell guys of Asia.

The time is coming just as surely as the sun sets in the west after rising in the east, as surely as death and taxes have the half nelson hold on us all, when the Japanese people will get the all firedest swatting ever handed out by your Uncle Samuel, Esq. They are going to get a most beautiful drubbing when the proper time comes and when Uncle Sam goes after them please take notice that he wont have eight ounce padded gloves on his parental hands nor will the little brown devils think they are flirting with a summer girl either. Uncle Sam isn't the dress parade kid but he has the jynx on this fighting business. For reference please ask J. Bull and the Spanish Don.—Fallon (Nev.) Standard.
