A BIG CUT

PACIFIC MONTHLY
and
Monmouth Herald
One Year

$1.50

The hum of the thresher is heard in the land shelling out dollars in the shape of wheat, oats, vetch and kindred grains. There would have been a big harvest of dollars around Monmouth if more vetch had been sown, but the price last year did not furnish a great deal of encouragement to sow great areas.

Mrs. Melissa Kitchen, of Stayton and Mrs. Ellen Morgan, of Albany, drove down from Albany Friday for a visit with Mrs. Kitchen's daughter, Mrs. Dr. Bowersox. The ladies are cousins of the Herald editor whom he had not seen for over twenty years. Mrs. Kitchen had the pleasure of wielding the birch over us in our youthful days and, needless to say, we deserved several lickings, but were able by persuasive arguments, to escape with nothing more severe than a reprimand.
