Chambers & McCune

The Big Day Light Garment Store,

Albany, Oregon

We noted quite a broad display of good nature on the countenance of the host of the Hampton hotel when we met him Monday morning, but was at a loss to account for it until he remarked "I have been to Portland." Even then our mind seemed to work feebly, but after awhile the cause of the smiling countenance began to appear. David had seen the chief executive of the country. Mr. Hampton does not claim that he went to Portland to see President Taft, but that he had other business which called him there. However he saw him in the procession and while he did not have the pleasure of a handshake, he did look upon that smiling visage and came home with—well a smile is catching.

F. B. Gwin came in Monday morning and ordered his copy of the HERALD sent to Independence, as the office most convenient to his future residence. Mr. Gwin has engaged with Eph Young, who lives four miles north of Independence, to take charge of Mr. Young's hop yard during the next year and has moved there.

One of Weston mountain's big yields this season was had from 14 acres of "potato ground" at the productive farm of Lewis H. Dowd. This tract produced 494 sacks of barley weighing 120 pounds to the sack, and averaging 88 bushels per acre at the commercial weight of 48 pounds to the bushel. This crop affords another illustration of what can be done with mountain soil by planting potatoes one year and barley the next.

L. W. Waller who has been employed at the Philomoth sawmill for some time past, returned here last week on his way to look after his homestead interests in the Siletz country. He ordered his Herald addressed to Falls City that being his nearest post office.

Benton Bowers of Ashland, Oregon, was here the latter part of last week to look after his interests in this section. Mr. Bowers invested largely in farm land some two miles south of town a few months ago.

Harold and Doris Herren won the prize in the skating contest at Independence Wednesday night, for the best couple of skaters.

Messrs Bogert and son have sold their large Furniture store here to P. E. Chase who is now in charge and who will hereafter serve the public with a good article in furniture, while he will still cater to the taste of the lover of sweets in the confectionery line. Mr. Chase will carry a first class line of furniture and solicits the patronage of the public and desires you to see his goods and learn his prices before buying elsewhere. Read his advertisement appearing elsewhere.

J. L. Murdock purchased a fine stock ranch consisting of a square section of land, in Lincoln county, this week. The sale being made through W. A. Tucker of Monmouth.
