Temperance Lecture.

Mrs. Helen D. Harford, national organizer of the W. C. T. U., was in Monmouth last Sunday and gave two lectures in the Evangelical church in the cause of temperance. Mrs. Harford is of pleasant address, has her subject well in mind and presents it in a forceful manner.

She is out on the firing line being the first to engage in the nineteen and ten campaign which she says is now on. Among other things that engages her attention, is the organizing of the young people into an auxiliary society to the W. C. T. U. This is a grand object as it will offset the work of the saloon element who are ever alert and vigilant to draw the young people into the toils of alcoholism.

Among other things which came out in the lecture was the campaign yell which she described as follows:

Oregon, Oregon, my, my, my, Oregon, Oregon, dry, dry, dry, Oregon, Oregon, when, when, when, Oregon dry in nineteen ten!

We were shown samples of English walnuts grown in Oregon, and samples of others which were grown in California, a few days ago, for the purpose of inspection. We found the home produced article to be larger and better flavored than those which came from our neighbor state, and inferior only in color, which we were informed was due to the bleaching process to which the California product is subjected.
