The Old Year with its cares, troubles and worry is passing today; make the best of the New one.

Mrs. I. G. Singleton of Falls City came over and spent Christmas with Mrs. DeWitt of this place.

Mr. A. T. Cross who was severely ill some time ago is again very ill, suffering from heart trouble.

Jesse Gardner is at home this week having come up from Divide, where he is teaching school, to spend the holidays.

Mrs. Mattie LaDow of Falls City came over and spent the holidays visiting her sisters here, Mrs. Sarah Davis and Mrs. G. W. Ebbert. She returned home today.

Mrs. Bert Cross accompanied by her mother and a nephew will arrive here in a few days from Kansas. Mr. Cross arrived here some time ago being called here when his father, A. T. Cross fell ill.

H. K. Sickafoose and wife returned from Perrydale last week whither they had gone some months ago and will make Monmouth their home again. Mr. S. said he had some Monmouth soil sticking to his shoes; he couldn't get it off; he had to bring it back.

Two games of basket ball are scheduled for Saturday evening. One between the Monmouth High School team and that of the Salem High School; the other is between the Dallas X. L. C. R. and Monmouth 2nd team. These games promise to be very interesting, and will give entertainment for the evening. Game commences at eight o'clock.

Monmouth wins from Corvallis

A very interesting Basket Ball game was played on Christmas night, in the Normal Gymnasium, between the Corvallis High School and Monmouth School, in which Monmouth was successful by a score of 35 to 13.

The Monmouth boys did not play the game they have heretofore, having had no practice since the last game but never-the-less they did not take a defeat.

The lineup of the teams was as follows.

Monmouth	Corvallis
R. Burkhead	F Cate
R. W. Chute	F Sprague
E. V. Springer	C Smith
L. R. Springer	G Star
L. Waller	G Cooper

Taylor Halleck was up from Newport to spend Christmas with his parents, A. N. Halleck and wife.

Dr. Cook may be a faker; but it will always be said that he had the saving grace of a gentle man. — Telegram.

Jack Frost is having a run now, and the order is, clear days and cold nights. The town pump is having its trouble.

Mrs. Ada Taylor of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Orr of Rickreall spent Christmas with their mother, Mrs. Irene Dalton.

R. M. Smith was able to walk up to town again last week, being the first time for some two months. He has been suffering from lumbago.

The Evangelical Sunday school gave each of its scholars a nice treat Sunday morning having secured a good supply of candy for that purpose.

Rev. W. W. Davis will preach in the Baptist church next Sunday at the regular hours, morning and evening. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

C. V. Clodfelter and wife arrived here a day or two before Christmas on a visit to Mrs. Clodfelter's parents, C. G. Griffo and wife. Mr. C. returned to his home at Jefferson last Monday while his wife remained for a more extended visit.

V. D. Butler, R. F. Wolverton and C. B. Dalton came up from McMinnville and spent Christmas with their parents but from all appearances it seems as though a couple of young ladies was the principal attractions for Messrs Butler and Wolverton.

J. S. and Thomas Forsyth, of Airlie accompanied by W. S. McCaleb were down from Simpson's logging camp to spend Christmas in Monmouth. The former are Scotch laddies and had a bagpipe with them and treated Monmouth to some Highland music.

Mrs. Kathryn Lenhart, daughter of the editor and his wife who was here on a visit last week, left on Friday morning for her home at Springfield, Oregon. She and her husband had just returned from a visit to his old home in Western Pennsylvania, and they brought with them some walnuts, hickory nuts, beech nuts and chestnuts, samples of which Mrs. Lenhart gave to her parents. They were very much pleased with their eastern visit, but after all they think there is no place like Oregon, and were glad to get back again.

A Social Gathering.

A most enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Fuller Christmas eve. A large number of relatives and friends had been invited to relieve the beautiful Christmas tree of its delectable fruit, with which it was loaded.

After a program consisting of music, songs and recitations the presents were distributed, and after all had enjoyed their share of the many pretty gifts, dainty refreshments were served, consisting of coffee, cakes, ice cream and other good things.

All were surprised when the hour of midnight chimed, and all departed for their homes, declaring it one of the most pleasant evenings they had ever spent, and wishing their host and hostess and each other a "Merry Christmas" and many happy returns of the day.
