

Local and Personal

During the month of March Mrs. R. Avory sold fifteen dollars worth of eggs from forty-five hens. Her poultry is what is generally termed common stock being a mixture of several varieties.

Dr. C. R. Matthis, of Amity, was called here the first of this week to attend the infant of Dr. and Mrs. Matthis of this place. Dr. Matthis is a brother of Dr. J. O. Mathis. The child is improving.

Among the improvements instituted recently is the change made in the interior of the Evangelical church which was repapered the latter part of last week and for which the Ladies' Aid Society have the credit, A. N. Poole doing the work being assisted by Rev. L. C. Hoover and D. M. Hewitt. The change is a very pleasant one, but they are not through yet and within the next few days, expect to have the rostrum and aisles laid with new carpet.

Have The Right Spirit.

Weston Leader: The Leader is glad to learn from an authentic and reliable source that Monmouth has no desire to be the only normal in the state. Monmouth was placed in an erroneous light by an interview in the Telegram with one of its supporters, whom the reporter misinterpreted. Its friends hastened later to correct the interview. A long-time friend of the Monmouth Normal, Mr. J. V. B. Butler, writes to the Leader as follows: "I want you to know that we are fully in sympathy with your movement, and wish it all success possible. You know that there has never been anything but friendly feeling from the real friends of Monmouth toward Weston, and that feeling still exists. In every advisable way we are ready to help all we can to forward the whole general normal school idea in the state. There is no reason on earth why there should be any disagreement and every reason why there should be harmony." This is the right spirit, and we are pleased to be confirmed in our own belief that it is the real Monmouth spirit.
