

Local and Personal.

This evening offers opportunity not had every day.

E. A. King of Utica, N. Y., was in Monmouth Tuesday.

Laborers are very much in demand in this section. Hop growers need help to train their vines.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hannon of Hotdale were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Baun last Sunday.

Mrs. J. T. Berry and sister, Miss Emma Kreamer visited Mrs. A. S. Doughty Saturday returning home Sunday. Miss Kreamer is principal of the South Salem school.

Victor Ballantine of Dallas who has been engaged in taking the censuses in this vicinity was in town Wednesday night and expected to finish his field yesterday.

Peterson and Ecker made sale of the J. F. Smith 28 acre fruit farm situated three and a half miles northwest of town to Geo. Niggli of Silverton, the sale being made this week.

The Home Telephone Company had a car load of telephone poles shipped to Monmouth this week. The company is going to install a considerable number of phones at this place in the near future.

While Portland, Eugene and other cities are announcing the appearance of the first rose we can say Monmouth is not behind, as a beautiful crimson rose came in full bloom in Mrs. F. Hyde's garden several days ago. Several other parties also have choice varieties putting out.

High School Base Ball

The High School Baseball team of Monmouth met that of Falls City on the diamond here last Saturday afternoon and was defeated in a score of 15 to 13 runs.

The Monmouth boys fell behind in the first three innings but tied the game in the seventh. The game was quite interesting after the first three innings.

The Monmouth team will play the Independence High School boys at Independence tomorrow afternoon.

Raisin Day April 30 1910

The above date has been set apart as an annual event by the people of California in which all are asked to join by eating raisins in the form of "Raisin Bread" or in any form that may be desired. The object of this special day is to create a wide-spread raisin sentiment that will result in a greater demand for that fruit, and to direct the attention of all good housewives to the excellence of the raisin as an article of food. The good people of the Northwest are invited by their neighbors to participate in the pleasant custom and "break" raisin bread on April 30th.

High Priced Blind Pigs

Down in Coos County there is a shaking up of law-breakers, especially of the class which sell booze in dry districts as the following item shows:

Coquille, Ore., April 23.—Sig Aasee, Frank Wyland, Tom Cornelius and Jesse Warfield, all of Myrtle Point, indicted for selling liquor in a dry precinct contrary to the state law, were fined $1000 each and sentenced to thirty days each in the county jail.

All entered pleas of guilty to the indictments returned by the grand jury. All have been conducting tobacco, confectionery or other kind of stores and were caught dispensing booze on the side by Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Liljequist.

INVADING A MOSQUE.

Roughshod Methods of Sightseers in Turkey.

Albert Bigelow Paine says in describing a visit to a Constantinople mosque: "Some kind of ceremony was in progress when we arrived; but, as usual in such places, we did not mind. We went right in just the same, and our guides, too, and we talked and pointed and did what we could to break up the services. Old turbaned sons of the prophet were kneeling and bowing and praying here and there and were a good deal in the way. Sometimes we fell over them, but we were charitably disposed and did not kick them—at least I didn't, and I don't think any of the party did. We might kick a dog—kick at him, I mean—if we tripped over one, but we do not kick a Moslem—not a live one. We only take his picture and step on him and muss him up and make a few notes and go."

"I have been wondering what would happen to a party of tourists—Moslems, for instance—who broke into an American church during services, with guides to point and explain, and stared at the people who were saying their prayers and stalked over them as if they were wax figures. An American congregation would be annoyed by a mob like that and would remove it and put it in the cataboose. But, then, such things wouldn't happen in America. We have cowed our foreign visitors. Besides, there is nothing in an American church that a foreigner would care to see."—Outing.

Going Astray at Sea.

The difficulty of keeping a modern steamship on a straight course is no slight one. The helmsman steers by the compass, and, while a single degree of deviation appears very small on the compass card, it would if continued carry a fast steamship four miles out of her course in a single day's run. Yet the compass gives the course more accurately than the ship can be steered. Owing to the deflecting power of the waves and the rolling of the ship, which if she is of the twin screw type causes first one of her propellers and then the other to exert greater effect, the course is continually shifted a little this way and that despite the helm. The only safety is in correcting the compass course by frequent observations of the sun, moon and stars.—New York Tribune.
