

Local and Personal

State Circuit Court convened in Dallas Monday.

L. D. Brown, Attorney-at-law, Notary Public, Abstractor, Dallas, Oregon.

Mrs. J. W. Richardson, of Independence, came to the rescue of the Herald force this week, the regular typo being quite ill.

Mr. M. Winegar of McMinnville came up Saturday evening on a visit to his son, J. E. Winegar and family, of this place remaining over Sunday.

D. Jones passed through town, Monday, with a wagon load of household goods. He was moving his family back to Monmouth Heights from Independence to which place they had gone last fall to school the children.

On account of our typo getting sick last week we missed getting some items into print, and among these was the sale of the Mulkey brick building to Robert Steel. Mr. Steel is further improving his purchase by the erection of a warehouse, 32x48 feet, which he is having erected back of his building for the convenience of Muscott's store and the Pharmacy. The warehouse will be a wooden structure, one story in height.

Social Evening on the Yachats

The young people of the Yachats have organized a dramatic club for the purpose of up-building the community socially and the benefit educationally of each member.

Among the entertainments given by the club was a "Basket Social," which took place Saturday night, April 23, 1910. A good program was rendered, two of the numbers being farces, one given by eight boys dressed as "Coons," the other a "Woman's Rights Meeting" by four girls. The baskets, which were very very unique, sold well. Clam soup was served with the supper after which a short time was spent in playing games.

Thirty-five dollars and thirty-five cents was realized from the sale of the baskets. This goes to build a hall which is to be used for all social occasions as well as for the club plays and regular meetings.

Mary Murphy is teaching a Summer school on the beach at the mouth of the Yachats. She has just completed a six month's term on the Yachats and is now teaching the most western school in the United States.

(Our correspondent is somewhat mistaken as to the most Western school in the U. S. Curry county holds that honor, and can beat Yachats by about twenty-two miles or near that.—Ed.)
