Mrs. Wm. Elkins, of Albany, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Strain are attending the Rose Carnival this week.

L. D. Brown, Attorney-at-law, Notary Public, Abstractor, Dallas, Oregon.

W. H. Ireland, who visited Columbus Tetherow on the Luckiamute for some ten days, returned here last Friday evening. He is slowly regaining his health.

V. F. Ireland, of California, arrived here last week on a visit to his brother, W. H. Ireland, who has been stopping in Monmouth for some time. He has gone on up into Eastern Oregon where he will fish and hunt for a couple of months. On his return his brother, W. H., will probably go with him to Southern California.

Won Debating Honors.

O. C. Hampton, principal of the Pendleton High School, stopped off on his return journey from Eugene, whither he had been in charge of the debating team of his school, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Hampton of this place. They arrived here Saturday and left on their way home Monday morning. The Pendleton debating team won out in the contest with the Eugene High School and holds the title of "State Championship" and as Mr. Hampton had charge of the Pendleton school much of the honor falls to him, and since he is a former Monmouth boy this place takes pleasure in his success as he was reared and educated here having finished his education at Eugene.

Man Grappled With Poison

John Moore, an employe of the Falls City Lumber Company, was a victim of ptomaine poisoning, Sunday, and for a time death seemed almost certain. The poisonous substance was contained in mush rooms which the Moore family ate at dinner, and it is miraculous that the wife and child, who also partook of the dish, were not afflicted.

The poison remained dormant in the stomach for about an hour and it was after Moore had gone to a neighbor's well and drank freely of water that he became delirious. Upon the arrival of Dr. Pfondhoefer life was all but extinct and the patient did not regain consciousness until late in the evening. — Falls City News.
