REGULAR PORTLAND LETTER

Great R. R. Development for Oregon During 1910

DOUGLAS CO. ACTIVE FOR GOOD ROADS

Portland Gets the 47th Annual Convention of Wool Growers Association

Portland, Or., June 14—By the end of the present year, it is promised that the most remote districts of Oregon will be served by railroad transportation. Central Oregon will have two main lines, the Oregon Trunk and the Deschutes Railroad and the building of these roads is of course the prime achievement of the year in transportation. In addition, the Harriman line to Tillamook will be completed and much progress will have been made by the end of the year on the Natron-Klamath road. This year the cost of contracts for new railway lines and betterments in this state will aggregate about $30,000,000. Many other important new projects will undoubtedly be mapped out and started before 1911.

Portland will get the 47 annual convention of the National Wool Growers' Association, the dates for which have just been fixed for January 5, 6 and 7, 1911. On those dates there will be thousands of delegates here from the wool growing states and the convention will be of wide interest to stockmen. In connection with the gathering there will be a big sheep show that is expected to draw many exhibits from the farms of Oregon sheep raisers, and many blooded sheep will be brought here from the other parts of the country. Preliminary plans are now being made for the gathering, various committees being already at work.

John H. Hartog, formerly manager of the Eugene Commercial Club, bids good-bye to Oregon and the United States, and with his two daughters sails this week for Rotterdam to again be associated with the firm of Hartog & Fesel. This company was established in 1783, was the first large importer of American packing house products, and had the contract with the German government to furnish the meats in the Franco-Prussian war. Mr. Hartog came to America as a lad of 18 to be associated with Armour & Co. of Chicago.

Livestock shipments to the Portland markets for the month of May are far ahead of the same statistics for May of last year, showing the growing importance of this market. Particularly is a big gain shown in hogs, which is gratifying to the trade. A total of 515 cars of livestock of all kinds came to the stock yards during May of this year. The increase in hogs received was over 7000 head. The O. R. & N. has decided to place in commission a regular stock train service, operating twice a week from Huntington to Portland and way points. This will begin June 21 and will be a great convenience to the stock raiser.

Mrs. A. J. Haley received a phone message Tuesday evening telling of the death of her cousin, Mrs. C. W. Steen of Milton. Particulars are not known. Mrs. Steen is well known here to many friends as Rosa Johnson. Age about 36. She leaves a husband and four children, two boys and two girls, to mourn her loss. Her's was a beautiful Christian character, a loving devoted wife and mother. C. W. Steen is a graduate of the Monmouth Normal and an Ex-representative of the Legislature.

Met With Accident

Last evening while viewing the interior of a house belonging to her father, which is being remodeled, Mrs. Agnes Egan received a severe wound on her skull when a chisel, which some of the workmen had left sticking in the ceiling, dropped and struck her on the top of the head. Although the wound caused was not serious it was a very painful one, and had the instrument hit her squarely it would undoubtedly have been fatal.—Albany Herald.

Five steps in securing good roads. A county association has been formed at Roseburg to boost the movement in that section of the state and the result of this action will be valuable. The organization was perfected through the efforts of the association and M. O. Eldridge, the government road expert. Meetings are now held throughout Oregon in the interest of better highways and much progress is being made.
