Portland Plans Apple Show for Whole State

OREGON IS TO HAVE A NAVAL RESERVE World's Greatest Dairy Expert will Lecture to Willamette Valley Dairymen

Portland, Or., July 12—An apple show that will reach big proportions has been determined on for Portland. The first such exhibit will be held in November and it is expected to have the entire state represented in a way never before attempted. The Commercial Club, business men and hotel men's association have all entered heartily into the project at the instance of the Oregon State Horticultural Society, which proposes to celebrate its quarter centennial this Fall by inaugurating a big annual apple fair that is expected to grow with each passing year until it attains proportions where it will attract national interest.

Oregon, in addition to an efficient state militia, is to have an organization of Naval Reserves. Steps have already been taken to form such an organization, which will maintain the same relation to the navy in the time of war that the militia does to the army. Ex-navy men and others interested formed a temporary organization at Portland during the past week. This will be made permanent as soon as possible.

Hibernians from all over the United States will visit Portland next week, coming to attend the annual convention of the A. O. H., which opens here July 19. It is estimated that no less than 20,000 people from all parts of the country will come to Portland at that time, attracted by the convention and the favorable rates made on account of it. Oregon has a chance to impress itself favorably upon this great number of people and there is no doubt it will make the utmost of the opportunity.

Willamette Valley dairymen are to have the chance of listening to one of the greatest experts in dairying in the world, when professor Bernhard Boeggild, of the Royal Danish Agricultural College, at Copenhagen, arrives here July 18. Oregon City, Corvallis, Salem, Albany, Forest Grove and McMinnville will be visited and the Commercial Clubs will entertain the visiting expert. He is studying American dairy conditions and will no doubt give many hints in his talks that will be of great value to the industry in Oregon.

Preliminaries for the annual livestock show and races at the County Club grounds next September, are now under way and the arrangements indicate this year's show will be more successful than ever. The fair will open on Labor Day and not only Portland people but those of outside points are interested in its success.

Gray's Harbor people are talking over the project of building a canal from the waterway through Willapa Harbor to the Columbia River, thus giving a deep water, dependable channel to the sea. One meeting has already been held and the people have been considering it seriously. It is said such a project will cost not over $1,000,000 and in addition to its aid to navigation, will drain a territory covering 10,000 acres of marsh land, now practically worthless.

A Modern Dairy Barn

A friend of the Herald gives the following account of a visit to the farm of Robert Channey:

A recent visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Channey, a mile Southwest of town, besides affording much pleasure from the bounteous hospitality, was a source of much information.

It was news to us that we have the only one of its kind in Oregon—meaning the new accommodations Mr. Channey has installed for his dairy herd. The floor is constructed of concrete with water trough and drain so that the whole can be flooded. The stalls and stanchions are of steel, the yokes only having wood on the inner surface. The yokes are adjustable at the top and bottom so as to turn at any angle, and to fit any sized animal.

The herd is mostly high-bred grades being headed by a full blood Jersey bull, registered, whose dam holds the champion record for 2-year olds for milk yield.

The farm contains one hundred acres all of which is yielding abundantly. Besides the new barn, Mr. Channey has made other improvements since taking the place two years ago.

We listened to hear the table groan when we saw it, for there was'n't a spot another dish of goodies could have been squeezed on, but there were somewhat less on it an hour afterward when we had all eaten to repletion.

Miss Edith Wolverton left here for Salem, Wednesday of last week, to attend the Cherry fair and visit with friends. She returned home Sunday.

Charles Leonard sold his farm, South of Monmouth, last week to Mr. Evans of near Lewisville for the sum of $8,300. Mr. Leonard reserved a few acres on the South end of the farm.

On Wednesday afternoon, July 6th, Mrs. Orvil Butler entertained The Ladies' Reading Club, of this place, and also a number of Independence ladies, at her home 2 1-2 miles from Independence. An amusing feature of the afternoon was a gum-sculpture contest, the first prize being won by Miss Parker, of Independence, while Mrs. Mary Campbell received the consolation prize.

The Indianapolis Star in speaking of the achievements of science has this to say of the flying machines: "Indianapolis has seen the aeroplanes fly and that sensation is over. The first sight of one of these machines in the air gives the spectator a thrill, but it is a feeling soon past. In half an hour the flying is an old story, a matter of course. The excitement is at an end the observer is ready for something new. We are a blase people in these days of many inventions. The greatest scientific wonder is but a sensation of a day."

Wellington, lots in Independence $300.

S C Lapham et ux to Anna E Bainter, land in t 6 s, r 7 w, $10,920,
