Dr. Robert Burnett, county recorder of Jackson county, visited Dr. Bowersox and family Monday and Tuesday of last week. Mr. Burnett was born and raised in this section of the state.

V. O. Boots left for Washington, some seventy five miles out from Seattle, Monday morning, having received a telegram that his father, W. Boots had become very ill at that place.

G. T. Boothby of Portland was here Sunday night and Monday forenoon, looking after his property interests and shaking hands with old friends. Mr. Boothby and associates are doing a good business in Portland, but he looks forward to a time when he and Mrs. Boothby will quit Portland and return to old associations. Mr. Boothby paid for the Herald for another year and remarked that to receive its visits each week was like receiving a letter from home.

Dr. F. R. Bowersox and B. F. Baker went to Salmon River Friday on a camping trip returning home Sunday evening. They brought back about a hundred and seventy five fish with them, some of which weighed about three pounds. The Doctor was in quite a quandary as to how to ascertain the weight of the fish until he happened to think that fish carried scales with them—there was no guess-work after that. They brought a young coon home with them which Mr. Baker will chaperone, but we have not yet learned as to whether they will go into the show business or not. "Coon shows are generally up-to-date.

Markee, who looked after the station here during Mr. Burt's absence, left to take a position as operator at Forest Grove. Mr. Markee was somewhat loath to quit Monmouth as he had taken quite a fancy to the place during his stay here.

The Monmouth Canning Company has had the dryer put in first class order and are ready to dry prunes when the season comes on. President J. H. Hawley went to Portland yesterday in the interest of the cannery, and if suitable arrangements can be made for the product, the cannery will also be put in operation. The prospect of its running this fall seems to be fair.

There was some trouble at the Creamery here, Saturday, which delayed work somewhat for the time. In repairing the pumping apparatus of the well which supplies the creamery with fresh water, a pipe was let slip into the well, necessitating the services of an expert to remove it, and get thing in running order. The Creamery was in operation again by the first of the week.

E. Bogert disposed of his farm last Saturday to Henry Fawks of Salem. Mr. Bogert purchased the farm thirteen months ago and this spring planted 45 acres of it to prunes. Mr. Fawks who is a fruit man, concluded that he wanted the land and he paid $100 an acre for the farm there being 95 acres of it. Mr. Fawks intends planting the balance of the place to fruit, but we understand he will plant it in apple trees.

Monmouth Oregon

Announcement.

Heretofore Those of our customers who were not satisfied with anything less than perfect fitting garments have chosen their clothing from the sample books of M. Born & Co., of Chicago. For years we have been rendering satisfactory service to our customers in this way; yet we found that many had difficulty in judging of the appearance of the finished suit because of the small size of the sample shown.

For all such we have good news in that we will shortly be able to show them in addition to the usual samples, a goodly assortment of patterns in one and one-half yard lengths. These large swatches draped on the customer show the effect of the pattern as will the finished suit, and one may make their selection of cloth with the assurance that the suit will please them when it arrives.

Come in soon and see the New Fall Styles.
