

Local and Personal NEWS FROM COUNTY SEAT

Zook the Painter, will hang your paper for you.

J. B. Stump is just finishing a large addition to his barn and a new silo for the reception of green feed.

A. N. Poole was home Sunday from Benton Bower's place where he is building a bungalow. He returned to his work Monday hoping to complete the job this week.

Joseph Polley, Of Buena Vista, Severely Burned

Buena Vista, Ore., Oct. 20—Joseph C. Polley, of this city was siezed with a sinking spell Sunday morning and fell into the fire. He was badly burned, his right forearm being cooked almost to a crisp.

Uncle Joe, has reached the ripe old age of 79 years and is quite active for a man of his age. He is also an old pioneer, having immigrated to Oregon in the year 1847.

The attending physician advances the opinion that the old veteran will survive his injuries, and we are all hopeful that his judgement is correct.

New State Puts In Three New Normals

Edmond, Okla. Sept. 20.—More than 500 students have been enrolled in the departments proper and about 200 in the training school. The large enrollment is a considerable increase over that of the same time last year.

In view of the fact that three new state normal schools were established and equipped for normal work last year and that there was a severe crop failure in this portion of the state, it was feared that the enrollment this year would show a considerable decrease over that of former years, but the large registration of students from every section of the state shows that the Central normal has lost none of its past popularity. One feature of the increased enrollment is the unusually large number of students enrolled from the southwestern part of the state.

Polk County Goats Capture All Prizes At Virginia State Fair

Readers of the Observer will recall to mind that blooded Angora goats shipped by U. S. Grant, of Dallas, to H. G. Hunter, of Doswell, Virginia, were awarded first premium at the Virginia State Fair last year.

A few months ago, Mr. Grant made another shipment of goats to Virginia and again the Oregon animals have been pronounced superior to all others by the Virginia Fair judges.

Writing to Mr. Grant from Doswell, under date of October 12, Mr. Hunter says:

"The Angoras you sold me won every prize they were entered in at the Virginia State Fair. The yearling buck won the Championship and the kid buck was second. In the doe class, the yearling won the Championship and the two-year-old was second.

"In the 2 year old and over, M. S. Valentine won with the buck you sold him last year. I was second with a Montana buck. The cup was won with kids sired by the buck you sold Valentine.

"I have never seen so many first-class goats at any Fair. I was offered $100 for the kid buck at the Fair, so you can see what people think of the Grant Goats. Next year I will give you another order for goats."—Polk County Observer.
