Local and Personal

Zook the Painter, will hang your paper for you.

Will we soon have spring weather?

Guy Scheible spent a short time sight seeing at Independence Friday of last week.

Winegar & Lorence have decorated the front of their business place with a large sign.

Dr. Allin, dentist, Cooper Building Independence Oregon. Both phones. 19-tf.

Harold Harren and Alva Craven witnessed the ball game at Independence Saturday night.

Postmaster Wolverton is confined to his room with quite a severe attack of "grip."

Samuel Morrison, the jolly butcher boy, spent Saturday night at Independence, returning on the early train Sunday morning.

Ray Chute spent Saturday night at Salem, from there he visited his parents at Jefferson Sunday, returning Sunday evening.

Mrs. A. N. Poole has received a pen of Full Blooded Barred Plymouth Rocks from the Keystone Egg Farm in Southern Oregon. These chickens have been bred to lay.

It is noted that several of the young men of the city have decorated their smiling faces with a pair of specious looking "side burns." Get the fad boys and keep the good thing moving.

Fred Smith, who has been staying with his uncle, out on the Luckiamute for the past few weeks, returned home Saturday, to accompany the straw-ride party to Dallas. He returned to the Luckiamute country again Sunday evening.

To His Majesty

In a certain small English village there were two butchers living in the same street. One placarded his sausage one shilling a pound, and the rival very promptly placed eightpence on his card.

No. 1 then placed a notice in his window saying that sausage under one shilling could not be guaranteed.

No. 2's response to this was the announcement:

"I have supplied sausages to the king."

In the opposite window the following morning appeared an extra large card, bearing the words:

"God save the king."

Jest a few of the men will wear corset coats and tight trousers because some fellow who alleges he is the dictator of fashions, says that is the style. Men, real men, not the other kind, do not grasp at the extreme fashions like a drowning man at a straw. Fortunately most men are endowed with something akin to common sense and the corset, tight trousers, hair combed back like a wild-eyed professor, do not meet with general approval. Jumping from one extreme to the other might be a nice thing for the tailors but it is pinching on the pocketbooks of the average man. Conservation in the style of clothing meets with the approval of the masses.—Ex.
