Ye editor gave Independence a short visit, Saturday morning, and noticed that there was considerable building and other improvement in progress. Our sister city is swelling out.

W. E. Smith returned home the first of the week from his vacation trip into Columbia Co. Mr. Smith reported a pleasant trip and a nice string of fish, but the best thing he came across was a bee-tree which yielded 130 pounds of nice honey.

C. E. Huntley, deputy assessor, was doing business in Monmouth the latter part of last week. Mr. Huntley has about finished assessing in the district allotted to him. We understand that he made some changes in valuation here, raising on some and lowering on others, according to location and convenience, but so far as we have heard, his valuations have given general satisfaction.

A pleasant social event took place at the home of Mrs. W. E. Strong on Thursday evening of last week, when the Blues and the Reds, two divisions into which the Evangelical Sunday School members had divided for the purpose of contest in securing new members to the school, met to celebrate the victory of the Blues over the Reds. There was an abundance of ice cream and cake on hand and a most pleasant time was enjoyed by all present, however the Blues are wondering if it were not an "If I win I pay" sort of an affair as each household was divided part working for each side. The Blues enjoyed it even if their other half did have to foot the bill, while the Reds enjoyed the feast hugely, content in the consciousness that the other party bore its share of the expenses. All is well that ends well.

Homer Peck, of Walla Walla, was in town Saturday.
