Local and Personal

Zook, the paper hanger will do your painting.

George Remington, of Dallas, spent Sunday with his parents, Mayor and Mrs. Remington.

Rev. W. A. Gueffroy made the window-seats, tables, and magazine rack for the public library.

E. H. Hosner, of Portland, was in Monmouth, Monday and Tuesday, having come over from Salem where business had called him.

Mrs. Dr. Heft, of Sacramento, accompanied by two of her children, is here on a visit to her father, A. B. Westfall, and other relatives.

Miss Maggie Butler took charge of the public library Saturday evening in the absence of Mrs. K. M. Jacobson who spent the week end in Portland.

Prof. J. B. V. Butler and Luther Ground, of this place, and Dr. Butler, of Independence, returned home Saturday from an outing on the Aisea River. Luther reports a pleasant time with plenty of luscious venison and fish to eat while in camp.

Grocer G. A. Muscott, of this place, received news last week of the death of his cousin, Bertrand Muscott, who was mistaken and shot for a cougar, in the Olympic Mountains, by a man named John Rogstead, a logger of Brinnon, Wash. Dr. and Mrs. Muscott were camping and on hearing a shot Mrs. Muscott hastened in the direction arriving at the body of her husband at the same time his slayer did. The two carried the body to camp and Mrs. Muscott guarded it while Rogstead was sent to Brinnon, twenty-five miles distant for aid.

Monmouth Heights

George Stewart was a Falls City visitor Monday.

C. E. Clapp is erecting a new barn on his place here.

Mrs. E. Clark made a business trip to Falls City Monday.

Clarence Bruce, of Oakdale, was in this vicinity Wednesday.

William Herren, of Independence, was on the Heights Friday.

John Sumpter, of near Falls City, passed through here Tuesday.

Mr. Barber and family have rented and moved into Rufus Smith's house here.

Jamee Goodman and George Stewart made a business trip to Woodburn Thursday.

C. C. Tetherow and wife of the Luckiamute were in this neighborhood Sunday.

Miss Katie Barnes, of Corvallis, is visiting her grandparents, Allen Towns and wife.

Saul Cox, wife and daughter, of Independence, visited at the home of Dave Olin and family Sunday.

Dr. Matthis, of Monmouth, was called here Saturday to see Mrs. Lizzie Olin who is on the sick list.

Mrs. Belle Sullivan and daughter, Bessie, of Monmouth, spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. E. Clark.

Jesse Johnson returned home Monday, after five months work for Mr. McCarthy, near Independence.

Lafe Johnson and wife Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Dick Ogle and family, near Independence.

Joe Houseman and family, of Monmouth, visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milt Bosley, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Nellie Shipley and brothers and Len Fishback made a business trip to the Luckiamute Valley Monday.

J. H. Remington and Samuel Strickler returned from the Aisea country last Saturday.

The Evangelical church will have quarterly conference meeting next Saturday evening and Sunday. Rev. F. M. Fisher, of Salem, will be in attendance and preach Saturday evening and Sunday. There will be a business meeting held after service, Saturday evening, and communion in connection with the morning service. All will be welcome to attend.

Chester Chaplinger, of Portland, is visiting his cousin, Allen Clark, and wife. Messrs. Clark and Chaplinger took a day off Monday and went fishing in the vicinity of Falls City, but the catch consisted of just two fish long enough to save them from infringing upon the game-law. Allen thinks the finny tribe were at peace as he says they would not bite.
