

HERALD SUPPLEMENT.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Monday morning, Dec. 18, at Assembly, Revs. Owen and Carson were present and each gave a short talk. Rev. Owen took for his subject "Good enough, Best's worst enemy" showing that no one should ever think he had done well enough until he had done his very best. Rev. Carson spoke of the excellency every one should seek to obtain in his or her line of business.

The regular fortnightly program of the Laureans was given on Friday afternoon, Dec., 15, and was as follows: Song, society; Comic reading, Marie Smith; Reading, Clara Howard; Instrumental solo, Mable Johnson; Book review, Ivan Wood; Address, Prof. Gentle; Vocal solo, Doris Herren; Critics report, Miss. Jackson; Song, Society. Prof. Gentle, in his address, told of the extreme loyalty of the German people to their rulers, taking for an example the funeral of a certain Grand Duke of one of the provinces. At this event all the high rulers who could not come sent some one or some thing to represent them, the emperor sending a carriage, coachman and footmen. There were also many soldiers present. As the funeral procession passed thru the streets all the German spectators stood bowing low until it had passed. Mr. Gentle has promised to tell us of a wedding in Germany on some future date and we hope that will be soon.

A sewing class has been organized with Miss Jackson as instructor. This class will meet every Friday afternoon from 1:40 until 2:30 o'clock.

All last week was spent in taking the tests which are given every six weeks.

The enrollment of the high school is steadily increasing, three new scholars having entered during the last week. They are Lola Miles, and Bertrice French, freshmen; and Giles French, senior.

All are looking forward to the coming vacation which will last from Friday Dec. 22, to Tuesday Jan. 2.

Mrs. C. V. Clodfelter and little son of Jefferson arrived here Monday, to spend the holidays with her parents, C. G. Griffa and wife. Mr. Clodfelter will come also about Christmas day.

F. W. Gaines, of Salem, was a visiter in this city Monday.

Zook, the paper hanger will do your painting.
