Clay Hiser was a visitor in McMinnville Saturday.

R. F. Wolverton, of Portland, is the guest of his father, O. A. Wolverton.

Mrs. M. E. Lee, of Corvallis, came Sunday for a two weeks visit with Mrs. Monroe Mulkey.

Grandpa Guthrie, of Dallas, was the guest of his son, H. E. Guthrie, Sunday, returning home Monday.

L. K. Woodford was interviewing Monmouth business men Tuesday, in the interest of R. G. Dun & Company, of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Hooper arrived last week from Michigan and will spend the summer visiting Mrs. F. A. Huntley. They are both well pleased with this section of Oregon.

Hartley Mulkey's name appears among those who are making improvements. He has moved his residence back from the street and is building on a front addition.

Mrs. C. L. Marks, of the Luckiamute country, was in Monmouth Saturday and gave the HERALD office a pleasant call, presenting the editor with a sample of eggs produced by her Brown Leghorn hens, one of which measured 7 1/4 by 6 inches in circumference, while the second was only a sixteenth of an inch smaller each way. She said that the sample was above the average size and that she suspected each contained a double yolk. Inquiry as to fruit prospects in the vicinity of her home brought forth the answer that the late frosts and cold rain had thinned it out until there would hardly be sufficient for home consumption.

The Independence Enterprise has changed hands again, Messrs. Schmitt & McMillan, of Sprague, Washington, having purchased the plant. The HERALD wishes the new owners success.

The Entre Nous Club, of the O. S. N. gave an entertainment on Cupids Knoll Wednesday evening in honor of the Seniors. An excellent picnic dinner and a most excellent time is reported.

Sells-Floto Show at Dallas last week proved a great attraction for Monmouth citizens a large number of whom took advantage of the occasion to see the baby elephant and other curiosities and sights.

The changing wheel of time has made another flop-over and F. W. Bluhm has resumed his place in the Monmouth Creamery displacing Ray Chute, and Elba Ebbert has taken the position formerly occupied by Mr. Alderson.

Miss Loretta Smith closed her school at Newport two weeks ago today and returned home the following day, accompanied by her friend, Mrs. Hilton, who is so well pleased with our city that she thinks she would like a home here.

Misses Cora Green, Blanche Stitt and Tena Brown made an excursion into the country above Falls City last Sunday. They returned in the evening well laden with wild flowers and reported a pleasant outing. However, the fish didn't bite.

Mrs. A. M. Bedwell left Tuesday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Cass Riggs, and family at Crowley Station, with whom she attended the pioneers reunion at McMinnville, Wednesday. Before returning home, Mrs. Bedwell will visit her son at Yamhill and her son L. E., at Portland.

Pasco is sporting a brand new harness cut in the latest style.

Electric Celebration

There were nine automobiles carrying 44 of Albany's business men and citizens, passed through here yesterday afternoon in an excursion, being out for the purpose of advertising the celebration at Albany, July 4th, in honor of the completion of the Oregon Electric line to Albany by July 4. They are reaching out for a rousing time and they are going to have it.

The Australian Aborigines.

The tribes of central Australia are among the last of the primitive races. They are nomads who stray through the huge and deserted tracts of this great continent, hunting with spear and boomerangs. They are with few exceptions cannibals. Living in huts made of the boughs of trees, they have no household utensils. They count on their fingers only and only to the number of ten, but they decorate the rocks with rude attempts at drawing and make efforts to ornament their shields. Their art is determined and distinct, but inferior to that of the western European epoch of the reindeer. Their most singular characteristic is their social conventionality; they have fixed prejudices concerning marriage.

Standing the Test.

To test a sentry an officer after the salute said:

"Let me see your rifle." The recruit handed it over, whereupon the officer said in disgust; "You're a fine soldier! You've given up your rifle, and now what are you going to do?" The young fellow drew out a dangerous knife and exclaimed, "Give me that rifle or I'll cut your heart out!"

The officer was more than convinced that he would, and hastily handed the weapon back.—"A Little Tiger's War Diary," by C. W. Bardeen.

The Wrong Bit.

An Irish Jarvie was driving an English tourist round Dublin and on stopping for refreshments the tourist remarked to Pat how lean his horse was. Going up to the horse's head, the tourist examined its mouth and, turning round with the air of a man who knew something, he said:

"I am afraid that the want of flesh in your horse is due to the large bit you have in its mouth."

Pat looked at him sorrowfully as he replied:

"Shure, yer honor, I won't argue wid ye, but I'm after thinking it's the small bit that he has in his stomach that's a-troublin' the poor baste!"—London Mail.
