RECALL IS THREATENED

Governor West has moved in upon Portland with the avowed purpose to give that city a cleaning-up process and to make it morally sanitary. From reports that came out from time to time there is no doubt but that that city needs a moral wave of cleansing influence, and if the governor makes a success of his undertaking he will give himself a name that will long be remembered and honored by all admirers of clean government.

However, he will receive the censure of those whom he opposes and already the whiskey interests are up in arms and threatening to invoke the recall measure to counter his movement against the forces of vice and immorality. However, the recall threat is not likely to have any deterring effect on Governor West, and if the time comes when the friends of vice and immorality are able to dispose of those who oppose them in clean government, it will be time for the righteous to move out that judgment may overtake the evil-doers, for where evil only exists the fruit soon matures.

Tom Marshall's Definition of a Democrat.

"Old-fashioned constitutional democrats are they who believe that the equality of mankind does not consist in an equality whereby every man, native and foreign born, has an inalienable right to exercise all of his ability in getting on in the world just so that he gets on honestly, and that he does not prevent any other man from obtaining the reward of his honesty and enterprise.

"These old-fashioned democrats believe in making money, but they believe that every dollar made should be so clean that an infant may cut its teeth upon it. And they hold that it is no part of government to boost one man and boot another."

Californians are petitioning for the recall of Governor Johnson. The principal complaint alleged is that Taft supporters, through the manipulations of Johnson, will have no electors to vote for. It seems that Governor Johnson took advantage of the occasion to put the Taft voters at a disadvantage, hence this treatment for his sharp practice. From a natural view point one would concede the regular electors to Taft, he being the regular republican nominee of the Chicago convention, but it was arranged other-ways in California.

That the big prune packing plant of the J. K. Armsby company, now being built in this city by Contractor McIntire, of Roseburg, will be complete and ready for business by September 10, is the prediction made by Mr. McIntire. The superstructure itself is practically finished and only a small amount of work remains to be done on the roof, completion of which has been delayed by the non-arrival of roofing materials. Work of setting the boiler which will furnish steam for the plant is now under way. The boiler house will be located at the north end of the main building. The motive power employed at the plant will be electric, and the boiler is used solely to furnish steam, which is used in the cleansing and packing operations and for processing the fruit. —Dallas Observer.

Tale of Buried Treasure.

Last week, R. M. Smith set workmen at the task of raising and putting in order one of his old buildings on Main street in order to fit it up for the reception of J. A. Sturkin's Furniture Manufacturing business, and on tearing up the floor in the old structure there were signs of some one having burrowed their way under several of the sleepers and at a certain point having dug into the earth for about 18 inches, throwing the dirt in different directions so as to get it away from the place where they had been delving into the earth.

This again brought out the story of the death of Thomas G. Fuqua who once occupied the building and died there. Mr. Fuqua lived alone there and it was known that he had some $4,000 when he came to Monmouth and he told parties here that he had made more than a living while here, but when he died, the money found on his person and in his trunk, and a package which he designated as placed in his bed for safe keeping, only amounted to about $2,000, so that there remains about $2,000 yet to be accounted for.

About two years ago there was an occupant in the old building to whom the story of the unaccounted for treasure was told and some time afterward this man was seen coming out of a manhole in the floor of the part that had been used for a woodshed, and as traces of burrowing under the sleepers show from the place where the hole in the floor is situated to the place where the digging has been done, it is thought that this person had studied out the situation while occupying the front room and that he had burrowed under until he came to the place that had attracted his attention and dug the hole into the earth.

Whether anything was found or not is merely a matter of conjecture, but the party supposed to have done the searching, after a few month's residence here, left to take up residence in Portland.
