Butter by the Mile.

The Monmouth Creamery is making butter by the mile, according to the tale our reporter brought in of last month's achievement. Up to this year their banner output for May was last year when the May output was something above 26,000 pounds, but this year has over-shadowed last year's output and set the pace above the 40,000 pound mark which some one has figured out, that if the pound blocks were laid end to end, they would stretch out or form a line of butter five miles long, and butter hot-cakes half way to Texas, more or less. However, twenty tons of butter is a handsome output for a single month.

Referendum Invoked Against City Hall.

WOODBURN, Or., June 3.—The referendum has been invoked against a recently passed ordinance for the purchase of a site of 100 by 100 in the center of the business portion of the city at $5850. The city has $15,000 in bank for the purpose of building a city hall. The matter will be voted upon at the next annual election in November, and will be made an issue at that time.

Lebanon Ready for Paving.

LEBANON, Or., June 3.—At its last meeting the City Council ordered the sidewalks widened to 12 feet and the curbing put in by June 20, throughout the district to be paved, as that is the date on which the work of paving will begin. There are three crews now doing the cement work.

Orengo Postoffice Robbed.

ORENCO, Or., June 3.—An attempt was made Sunday night to rob the postoffice and general store of J. H. Garrett & Co. A few stamps and some keys were secured from the postoffice. But little merchandise was taken from the store.
