Saves Himself by Impersonating Woman.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., June 9. — Geo. Bogartis, a Mexican-American rancher of wealth, attributes his personal safety and the possession of his money to his success at feminine impersonation. He arrived here yesterday to relate how, by donning women's clothes, he escaped bandits who had demanded his money.

Captured near Oputo, Sonora, Bogartis was ordered to pay $5,000 for his life. He took the bandits to his ranch house and told them to wait outside while he went after the money. In the house he put on women's clothing and, secreting his money, boldly passed through the picket lines which had been placed about the premises.

The bandits doffed their big hats as the supposed woman passed, and the rancher safely made his way to the border, depositing his money in a bank here.

Hail Storm in Gilliam County.

CONDON, Or., June 9. — An electric storm, accompanied by hail, which struck this section Saturday, did considerable damage to growing grain and garden truck. It appeared to be a mile wide, and from Antelope to the Columbia river everything it struck was ruined. It seemed to follow in the path of last year's storm, and crops on a number of ranches struck last year, and which were in exceptionally good condition this season, were again practically wiped out. Among those hit the worst are the Coney ranch, Walter Meyer, Orwick Cook, Clyde Cripe, Farr Bros., and nearly every ranch on Rock Creek. The ranches which esaped the hail received a drenching rain, which assures a big wheat crop. A number of cattle and hogs were drowned on Thirty-Mile Creek and Rock Creek. The damage will probably reach $100,000.
