Will Fly His Machine.

A flying machine has been reported, but as we have been over crowded for time this week, we have not looked the matter up further than what came to hand. The following appeared in Wednesday's Telegram, dated at Monmouth:

The first flying machine ever in Polk county has arrived in this city, directed to John A. Riddell, who accompanied it from California. Mr. Riddell is one of the firm of Wm. Riddell & Sons, breeders of fine sheep and goats. The machine is a biplane, having a seven-cylinder 50-horsepower Gnome motor, which weighs about 180 pounds. The tail is 18 feet long, and the total length of the machine is 25 feet. Mr. Riddell plans to fly from the sheep barn on the big farm to a point beyond the Willamette river at Independence during the races, which will be held there four days this week. An engagement has been made to fly at the Grants Pass 4th of July celebration, and after that date the Monmouth aviator will fly for leading carnivals and events in the Northwest.
