WINEGAR & LORENCE

Monmouth, - - - - - Oregon

Local and Personal

Ed Rogers was a Monmouth visitor Sunday.

Zook, the paper hanger, will do your painting for you.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Orvil White August 15, 1913.

Abstracts promptly made by Brown & Sibley, attorneys and abstracters.

George W. Sullivan was in town, Monday, from the Stump ranch southwest of Monmouth.

F. Van Vlack, of Hosking, Kings Valley, in Northern Benton county, had business in town Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Craven returned home, Saturday, from their visit to Mrs. Craven's parents, at Bandon, Ore., well satisfied with their visit, and will keep house for Mr. Craven's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Craven, while they take an outing at Newport for a couple of weeks.

L. C. Fisk returned home, Saturday evening, from a stay of a week or so at the beach, looking well and hearty and reported that he had filled up, on good things to eat, and could again stand to be his own chef for a season. He reports that his better half is regaining health by her sojourn at the seashore.

Misses Blanche Stitt and Cora Green, Guy Scheible and Joe C. Clark were picnicing on Teal Creek, Sunday, having driven over in a two-horse rig. Mr. Scheible had received a box of grasshoppers, the evening before, from his father in Indiana, and he was anxious to see how an Oregon trout would nibble at a Hoosier grasshopper. The catch, however, was limited to less than a dozen fish.

To the Boys and Girls

The earlier school fairs are already being held and at the end of another month most of them will be a matter of history. Every one connected with the work is anxious that that history read satisfactorily. This is about the last opportunity we shall have to call your attention to your exhibits for most of your work has already been done.

Just a few words about exhibiting. As we have often said, the intrinsic value of the prize you are competing for is of little importance compared with the habits of industry you are forming, and the experience you are gaining in learning how to do some practical thing well. If you borrow something to show, or take something to the fair you have not raised or made, you will fail to get the value out of it that you should. Now, do not understand me to say that you should not take anything to the fair that is not entirely the product of your own effort. Some of the fairs, especially those that were arranged for late in the season, do not require you to do all the work. Where this is the case I would urge you to take everything you can, under the rules, that will make a good showing. Take pride in assisting to make your fair a success. But where the rules require that you do all the work yourself, as they do at the State fair, do not try to evade them. We might deceive everyone but ourselves, but a clean conscience is worth everything. If we never do the first little dishonest trick, we will avoid a lot of trouble in this life. This is on the same principle as never taking the first drink to avoid being a drunkard. It is a safe rule.

Do not overlook the county and district prizes at the State fair. It is a fine thing to cultivate local pride and patriotism. Team work aids in developing this spirit, so join with your fellows and do your part to help your district and your county to have the banner exhibits. Co-operation is becoming more essential every day and you can not begin too early in life to practice it.

Wishing you all success, and hoping to meet a great many of you at the Fair, I remain,

Yours for better boys and girls,

N. C. MARIS,
Field Worker Industrial Fairs.

More Houses Wanted

During the past ten days there has been considerable inquiry after houses to rent. There are a few residences to be had yet and there are two or three in course of construction and a prospect of more in the near future, but there is a lack of houses consisting of about four rooms, not too small, neither so large as to command a very high rent. This class of cottage is needed when a small family or a part of a family desire to move here for the benefit to be derived from the Normal school.
