Mt. Zion Evangelical Church

By W. A. GUEFFROY

TIN-HORNING THE GOSPEL.

"What's the matter with the church—to paraphrase the famous cry of William Allen White, the Kansan—that it adopts such strange and flamboyant methods. Is there no potency in the old ways and the old type of ministers?"

"Not long ago, a clergyman at Atlantic City, touched, perhaps, by the outlaw spirit, had services on Sunday afternoon which were practically religious smoking concerts. His congregation sat in easy chairs on the lawn and the men were told to bring their cigars and pipes and 'smoke up.' That was the only way, he said, that he could get the men to church.

"And now comes a New York divine who is proud of the fact that he has hit on a new idea. This, he should be told, is new only in the place he utilizes it. 'Tis the method of the 'spieler' and the 'barker' at fairs and open air shows, for he has installed a man on the pavement in front of his church to blow a horn and tell the people that this is a 'Salvation Shop.'

"There is no doubt that the church—and this applies to no particular denomination but is aimed at all—needs new blood and a general livening up. It has grown to set in its ways; is not sufficiently alert and progressive. But the cure is not an external one, to be applied in lawn poultries and horn stimulations. An internal remedy is needed. The pulpit is the seat of the ill.

"There need be no spectacular methods there; no call for things clamorous and unseemly; no need to turn the place of preaching into a political platform or one of social propagandas. The eternal truths of the Bible, more needed today when the forces of materialism are so militant, will do the work if handled in the right spirit and with the proper eloquence.

"The clergyman of today who can be a Beecher, a Spurgeon, or a Philipps Brooks will not need to go outside of the Bible for his themes. If he preaches the goodness of God, the value of prayer, the worth of godly living and thinking in the right way, he will succeed."

Legume Seeds

In reply to a party's question, "What are legume seeds?" Cow-peas, Canada peas, soy beans and peanuts are the legume seeds that are of importance which are used for swine feeding. They furnish nitrogenous matter in great abundance and some carry considerable fat. While the starchy cereal grains are the great fattening concentrates, the leguminous seeds furnish nitrogenous matter for building the muscular tissue and organs of the body.

The legume forages such as alfalfa, clover, vetch, cowpea, soybean and peanut vines, either fed as pasture in the summer or from cured hay in the winter, are not only furnishing protein but are an aid to health and a cheapening of cost of production.—American Swineherd.

Should you want to rent or sell your home you will quickly discover the value of its electrical equipment—or the lack of it.

No home is modern today without electric light

Housewiring and fixtures are among the soundest and cheapest investments you can make. The work is done quickly and cleanly—no dirt or litter or disturbance to the household.

Why not have an electrical contractor make an estimate of the cost?

Electric rates have gone down while the cost of living has advanced.

WATCH CLEANING

Unless the delicate, exactly adjusted parts of a watch are kept clean and lubricated, they are certain to become worn and the movement will surely lose its accuracy. Every watch should be thoroughly cleaned and oiled at least once in eighteen months and if yours has not been cleaned within that period it is time to bring it here.
