

SHINE WHERE YOU ARE

EXCHANGE

Don't waste your time in longing
For bright, impossible things;
Don't sit supinely yearning
For the swiftness of angel wings;
Don't spurn to be a rushlight,
Because you are not a star;
But brighten some bit of darkness
By shining just where you are.

There is need of the tiniest candle,
As well as the garish sun;
The humblest deed is ennobled
When it is worthily done.
You may never be called to brighten
The darkened regions afar;
So fill, for the day, your mission
By shining just where you are.

Just where you are, my brother,
Just where God bids you stand,
Though down in the deepest shadow,
Instead of the sunlit land;
You may carry a brightness with you
That no gloom or darkness can mar,
For the light of a Christlike spirit
Will be shining wherever you are.

APPLYING THE SERMONS.—The minister had just finished his great sermon. The air still quivered with his burning words, and the people sat erect, disturbed, embarrassed; yet still he lingered a moment in his place.

"Is there," he asked, "one here in whose breast these words strike like a barbed arrow, for the truth that is in them?" and he sat down.

"That was hard on John," said old James, "but he deserves it every word."

"A blow from the shoulder for James," said old John, "time he got one, too, if it is not too late."

"I wonder if either of the two old sinners will take his medicine and be helped by it," said old William.

But the little saint hurried home, and knelt by her little bed, and cried aloud in her anguish, "My God, my God have mercy on me and give me for this stone a heart of flesh."

SERVICES FOR SUNDAY, NOV. 16, 1913

The contractors promise to have the furnace in operation next Sunday. We believe them.

The churches of Monmouth, with their various enterprises of worship and work, notwithstanding the imperfections of worshippers and workers, represent the highest ideal possible for the race.

The Bible school at 10 o'clock Sunday morning extends an invitation to all those not attending elsewhere.

The Bible School orchestra is growing. They did good work last Sunday.

Good audiences, with three additions to the membership, last Sunday.

What kind of a place would Monmouth be without any churches?

Union Thanksgiving service will be held this year. Keep the evening of Thanksgiving day open.

The midweek service is growing in favor and usefulness. Come spend a quiet hour with us on Wednesday evening at 7:30.

The communion service at 11 o'clock, with sermon following.

What would the churches do, if everybody in Monmouth was just like you?

The C. E. had one of the best meetings last Sunday we have been in for some time. We prophesy just such a one for next Sunday evening at 6:30. Coming?

Held His Audience.

Evangelist Moody was invited in his early days to preach in a church whose congregation was notorious for leaving before the end of the sermon. Moody was warned of this, but he said confidently:

"I'll try to fix them."

And he cast about in his mind, and the morning he entered the notorious congregation's pulpit he said:

"My sermon will be divided into two parts. One part is addressed to saints, the other part is addressed to sinners. Let us take the sinners first."

He preached for twenty minutes. Then he said:

"I have now finished with the sinners. They may, if they please, take their hats and go. The saints will remain."

But nobody departed. That congregation for the first time in its history remained in a body till the end of the service. — New York Tribune.

Mr. D. E. Stitt,

Editor Monmouth Herald,

Monmouth, Oregon.

My Dear Sir:

I wish to express my personal appreciation for the splendid work you have done for the University. The matter will be settled within a few hours and I trust in the way in which we have tried to make it go. Most of us have done the best we could in this campaign, but the work which you have done has been so much more effective and far reaching than that which I have been able to do, that I do not want this opportunity to go by without thanking you for it.

Yours very truly,

ALLEN H. EATON.

One of the advantages of electric lighting is its flexibility. You can have as much or as little illumination as you need and have the lamp just where you want it—on ceiling, wall or table.

Although housewiring is now done without litter or disturbance to the household, one of the best times to make the installation is during the fall housecleaning.

Prepare for the winter months, not only with clean rooms and fresh paint and wall paper, but with clean lighting—electric.

Why not secure a cost estimate from an electrical contractor?

Watch Talk

IF it has been longer than eighteen months since you have had your watch cleandd and oiled, in all probability you are abusing it.

Ordinary machinery, when in constant use, is oiled several times daily, while a watch is often allowed to go without any attention.

DON'T subject your watch to such misuse. If you do you may find yourself in possession of a useless time keeper.
