HELD IN HIGH ESTEEM

The letter published below is one of the many letters received from New York by Mr. and Mrs. Hall telling of the high esteem in which their daughter was held by her fellow workers in that city.

December 19, 1913.

MR. L. M. HALL,

Monmouth, Oregon.

My dear Sir: Permit me to extend to you and Mrs. Hall my heartfelt sympathy in your very great trouble because of the death of your daughter Opal.

As director of the Department in which she was a worker, I wish to state that I too, felt her loss very keenly. She was a most capable teacher; but more than that her power to influence for good was very great. All her associates loved her because of her charming disposition and honesty of purpose, and I assure you that the Department of Drawing in the Public Schools of New York City will feel her absence keenly.

Sincerely yours,

FRANK H. COLLINS,
Director of Drawing.

Three and Half Ton Aeroplane

ST PETERSBURG, Dec. 25.—The Bourse Gazette publishes an account of a successful trial of the aviator Sikorsky's newly designed aeroplane, weighing three and a half tons. The trial was carried out at the aerodrome. The machine is propelled by four motors of 100-horse power each. It will carry a score of passengers and has cabins with sleeping accommodations.

Must Learn To Swim

EUGENE, Or., Dec. 30.—When the students return to the university next Monday they will find completed and ready for use the new $5000 swimming tank in the men's gymnasium. It has taken five years to complete this, each year the Board of Regents deciding that it must give way for other more needed improvements. The tank is 60 feet long and 30 feet wide. It is illuminated by lights placed at the bottom.

Beginning in February, swimming will be made compulsory for every student of the university. A resolution, yet unpassed, is now before the faculty providing that every student be required to swim before he is granted a degree.

To The Public

New resolutions belong to the New Year, and I have resolved that I cannot do business on a credit system and beginning today will start on a cash basis. By so doing I can do better by my patrons and for myself.

Thanking you for past patronage I still solicit your trade and good will and wish you a prosperous New Year, and I will be pleased to have those indebted to me to come and settle.

Yours Respectfully,

THOMAS BOULDEN.
