Matches.

Matches have not been in use for a hundred years yet. It was in 1833 that Isaac Holden of London found out the secret of putting the sulphur of the igniting mixture directly on the wood and the match was made. They were called lucifer matches at first, because the word while applied usually to Satan really means light bringer, from the Latin lux, light, and fero, I bring.

Curry County Looks For Big Development

GOLD BEACH, Or., March 11.—The year 1914 looks like a banner year for Curry County. With the people in the new logging town of Brookings, in the south end, nearly ready to begin cutting timber at the rate of 250,000 feet daily, and with another logging town of 1000 population to be started this summer by the Smith Lumber Company in the extreme northern end, and with great building activity throughout the entire county, everything points to the beginning of a real boom for this, the largest undeveloped section in the United States.
