

A LITTLE MORE DEED

A little more deed and a little less creed;
A little more giving and a little less greed;
A little more bearing other people's load,
A little more God-speeds on the dusty road;
A little more rose and little less thorn,
To sweeten the air for the sick and forlorn;
A little more song and a little less gloom,
And coins of gold for the uplift of the slum;
A little less kicking the man that is down,
A little more smile and a little less frown;
A little more Golden Rule in marts of trade,
A little more sunshine and a little less shade;
A little more respect for fathers and mothers,
A little less stepping on the toes of others;
A little less knocking and a little more cheer
For the struggling hero that's left in the rear;
A little more of love and a little less hate;
A little more neighborly chat at the gate;
A little more of the helping hand by you and me,
A little less of this graveyard sentimentality;
A little more of the flowers in the pathway of life,
A little less on coffin at the end of the strife.

Oil Oozes From Old Mother Earth

From all indications there seems to be a large quantity of oil on the farm of G. A. Dawley's, located three miles southwest of Independence in the vicinity of Highland. Oil oozes from the earth continually and at times the ground is covered to a depth of several inches. Mr. Dawley says that he is convinced that there is a flow of oil on his farm and if men with money could be interested enough to make an investigation he believes this vicinity not only would enjoy the product of oil, but sufficient gas could be obtained to supply the city and surrounding country.

Mr. Dawley originally comes from Pennsylvania and says that the flow of oil on his farm resembles that of the oil fields in this state, anyway, he hopes that the Commercial Club of this city will interest themselves in the project enough to get parties to investigate it. — Independence Enterprise.

Jersey Breeders Picnic

The Linn County Jersey Breeders' Association held a picnic on Thursday, June 18, to celebrate the completion of their Jersey promotion club organization. These Jersey men believe in the merits of Jersey dairy cattle and the adaptability of Oregon for developing the Jersey to a high plane of efficiency. They are determined to make Linn County famous for the production of high-class pure-bred Jersey cattle. Among the speakers at the picnic were Dean A. B. Condley, Professor R. R. Graves, Professor O. G. Simpson and Instructor E. R. Stockwell.
