Local and Personal

Miss Pearl Davidson went to Portland Monday to be gone for a week.

Mesdames A. and C. R. Bookey of Suver were trading in town Tuesday.

M. M. Jones of Rickreall was in town Monday. He said that he was still celebrating the 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Dell Butler, who are visiting Mrs. Butler's parents, went to Dallas Tuesday to visit W. R. Coulter and family. They returned here next day.

Among those making improvements is J. A. Sturkin who has had lumber hauled to improve his house. He intends to make a modern dwelling out of it.

Among those from Independence who celebrated at Monmouth, July 4th, were Mrs. J. W. Richardson and her two youngest sons, and Vernon Brown and wife.

Mrs. N. J. Shirley was in town the latter part of last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Joy. Mrs. Shirley holds a position on the Daily Oregonian as proof reader.

Messrs. Raymond and Wilbert Cornwell, brothers, from Golden City Missouri, arrived here a few days ago, and are visiting their uncle, C. P. Cornwell, and family. They purpose to remain here for some time and may become permanent residents. They were here some six years ago.

Mr. A. H. Meyers of Portland spent the week-end with Mrs. Meyers who has visited for three weeks with her mother, Mrs. C. W. Stengel, and sister, Louise. Mrs. Meyers accompanied her husband back on Sunday. Mr. Meyers is credit man for the Portland Ry. Light and Power Company.

Mrs. Fred Huber and children were the guests of Mrs. Ira Phillips, and family, of Dallas, last Wednesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and children were guests of the Huber family for the Fourth.

S. W. Phillips of Dryden, Michigan, is here on a visit to his brother, W. L. Phillips. He was very much impressed with the splendid parade, July 4th and the orderly manner in which the day was observed and the absence of rowdiness, profanity and drunkenness. Mr. Phillips is accompanied by his mother, Mrs. E. A. Phillips, and a cousin, Mrs. C. H. Weston, who is a sister to Mrs. W. L. Phillips.

Forest Fire Bulletin

PORTLAND, ORE., July 3. — Two convictions in Washington for burning slash without permit from a fire warden, damage amounting to perhaps $5000 to logs and logging equipment in the same state through fires in slashings, but no loss of green timber, is the Pacific northwest record for June, the first month of the 1914 forest fire season, according to bulletins received from several states by the Western Forestry & Conservation Association.

All protective agencies were placed on the alert at the close of June by the prospect of a drying interior wind, but the new forecast service especially for forest fire conditions which is supplied by the U. S. Weather Bureau soon reassured them that the threatening high pressure in Western Canada had split into two areas and the danger was for a time averted. Nevertheless all patrol forces are being rapidly recruited for the season and about 2000 men will be on duty in a few days in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana. About 500 patrolmen are employed in these states by the timber owners' protective associations, nearly 200 by the states and the Government jointly outside the National Forests, and the others by the Forest Service within the National Forests. The British Columbia Government also has 225 men on duty.

July hazard to be guarded against, other than from campfires, is reported to lie chiefly in slash burning to clear land and rights of way and in leaving fires thus started to smoulder in logs and stumps to break out later when the inevitable hot and windy weather arrives. Forest officers announce that state laws regarding burning without permit and precaution will be enforced rigidly and also warn summer camping parties to be extremely careful with campfires.
