C. G. Griffa has gone courting this week to Dallas. Of course he explains that he was drawn on the jury but all the same his better half should keep tag on him.

Mr. and Mrs. Garvin of Roseburg are new residents of Monmouth, having settled here a few days ago. Mr. Garvin is employed as clerk in the Monmouth Mercantile Company's store.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. White and Miss Leda Dodge left for Newport last Wednesday on an outing. They will stay till they get tired, probably a week or ten days, having no definite time set for returning.

Mayor Johnson, Allen Clark and Ed Griffa went to the Alsea river last Friday on a fishing jaunt and met with good success. Besides catching what trout they could eat they caught four salmon the largest of which weighed about 35 pounds. Mayor Johnson was high fisherman having hooked the large salmon, which put up a game fight, so much so that before Mr. Johnson got his fish landed he was in the river swimming like a salmon too.

J. L. Murdock gave Portland a business visit yesterday and will return today.

Miss Ida Strong went to Scappoose last Friday to attend a musical given by Miss Hazel Watts and will visit for a week before returning home.

George P. Topping and family of Bandon passed through Monmouth last Friday on their way home from a visit to Portland. They were traveling by auto and had missed their way as they intended going by Independence.

M. M. Harvey was in Monmouth Friday getting feed ground for his stock. In speaking with a HERALD reporter of the ravages of the army worm he said that the worms were very bad on clover and on gardens. He had sprayed his garden, also his kale, with a preparation of arsenic which killed the worms there. He also sprayed 50 acres of clover for Riddell Bros., but had not learned what the success had been.
