S. P. Co. Issues Folder Containing Facts About San Francisco

For the benefit and guidance of 1915 visitors to the Panama Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco, the Southern Pacific Company has just issued for general distribution throughout the world a folder, containing a comprehensive map in colors of San Francisco, with carefully compiled facts about that city and her neighbors. Use of this map will not only enable the stranger to find his way about the city but also find quickly all streets, principal buildings, institutions, parks, hospitals, churches, monuments, hotels, clubs, homes of fraternal organizations, street car lines, theaters and newspaper offices, together with the important structures at the exposition. The key to the map is simple enough to make it readily intelligible.

The reading matter gives pointers as to what to see in San Francisco and how to see it. Important facts about the climate, suggestions for clothing, statistical facts about the city's commerce and industries and a guide to the various restaurants is embodied. The whole is neatly arranged in folder form, with cover pages in black and white showing the Ferry building and Tower of Jewels. It is one of the most comprehensive city maps and descriptive folders ever issued free by a railroad company and should prove a first-aid to the stranger within the city's gates.
