

A Man With a Temper

Wants Hardware with a Better Temper

If we sell it to you, you are not bothered with soft metal or any of the many other annoyances common to poorly tempered and "cheap" hardware.

Suppose you just keep this fact in mind until you are ready to buy.

R. T. Boothby of Carlton, a former resident of Monmouth, was the guest of his brother, G. T. Boothby, and wife Christmas.

Mrs. Arthur H. Meyers of Portland is spending the holidays with her mother, Mrs. C. W. Stengel. Mr. Meyers is expected up shortly and will accompany his wife home.

Christmas day passed off quietly at this place with the usual feasting and good cheer. The day was ushered in with rain that broke up the cold, frosty weather that had lasted for a couple of weeks, which was very gratifying to the average Oregonian.

The remains of M. Haley of Portland, father of A. J. Haley of this place, were brought to Monmouth and were interred in the K. P. cemetery south of town Tuesday. The services were held in the Christian church and were conducted by Rev. E. Wigmore who was called here from Eugene.

Party At "Bell Haven"

Misses Laura Bell, Lyda Bell and Orrie Steinberg delightfully entertained forty of their friends Wednesday evening, at the Bell home. The guests began to arrive about 8 o'clock and soon the house was filled with gay laughter and conversation. Music by the Misses Gentle, Kessi, Johnson and Bell was enjoyed by all and several encores were given. Games were played in which all were given the opportunity to win prizes, but only a few were successful. A present was taken by each guest, representing a gift that the year 1914 had brought, and each explained why he or she had taken that particular gift. Much amusement was derived from this, as many comical presents were shown. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served and after more music and conversation the guests departed, thanking the hostesses for the pleasant and very enjoyable evening they had spent at "Bell Haven."

An Aged Traveler

ALBANY, Or., Dec. 29.—John Morrow, 101 years old, came to Halsey last month from the Bald Hills, North Carolina, and claims that on last Thanksgiving day he for the first time saw an automobile or a motorcycle, and had his first ride on a railroad train.

It is the second time he has been out of the state of North Carolina, he having visited Washington, D. C., when Abraham Lincoln was inaugurated President.

Mr. Morrow will visit California before his return home.

Sustains Broken Leg

S. Crocker, who recently purchased the Bell place, had the misfortune to get a leg broken. Mr. Crocker was leading a cow to a place to picket her. The cow became frightened and ran, dragging him after her, throwing him over a log and breaking the left leg above the ankle in two places.—Falls City News.
