

WEEKLY INDUSTRIAL REVIEW

New Payrolls, Improvements and Factories and Enterprises that Will Give Labor Employment, and Matters Affecting Industries and Investments.

SALEM, OREGON, Mar. 29.—Special Corporation Examiner Vincent of Blue Sky department resigns.

Pension for life has been granted to woman in Norway whose son was killed in logging road by Oregon Workingmen's Compensation Commission.

Portland—Ordinance to abolish picketing by labor unions to be submitted to vote of the people in June.

Hood River—Fruit growers fix wages at $1.00 and board.

Government reports halibut banks off Newport of 250 square miles.

Supreme Court decision authorizes construction of Portland auditorium and work to be started at once.

Oregon City—D. L. Teullinger will build three miles logging road.

Seaside advocating Union High School.

Jitney service in Jackson County on hard surface highways compelled pulling off local trains and then the jitneys fail and people go without both.

Warrenton gets 2-story frame 60 by 65 feet, slow-burning building.

The new Federal Trade Commission has announced that its policy toward business will be one of "constructive helpfulness" and that it has no intention of beginning a campaign of annoying or harassing business, but, on the contrary, will try and encourage it. If this is a fact, it is one of the first government commissions that has ever done anything but hamper business.

Seaborg & Company of Portland will erect a cannery at Wedderburn.

Crater Lake Junction—Union Oil Company will build $25,000 plant here.

The Dalles gets the big Libby, McNeil & Libby fruit cannery.

Raker City—Votes July 15 on $30,000 bond issue to enlarge municipal light plant.

Clatsop County will macadamize Flavel-Warrenton road.

Eugene has $27,000 pledged for a lace factory and is after a shoe factory.

April 5, St. Johns votes on consolidation with Portland.

Klamath Falls firm contracts to supply sand and gravel for California state highway from Redding north to State line.

Leavitt & Company, Portland, build 4-story concrete motorcar block.

Oak Grove, Clackamas County, has $16,000 two-story concrete completed.

Willamette Valley Southern to be extended from Mt. Angel to Salem during summer.

E. H. Flagg has established the Weekly News at Warrenton, Hill terminus.

The $3.00 for 8-hour day minimum wage for common labor on public work is adding 5 to 25 per cent to cost of all municipal undertakings. The O. W. R. & N. grade crossings will cost $100,000 more.

Washington enacted the law of public necessity and convenience defeated in the Oregon legislature by one vote. The justification of this certificate comes from the fact that the state, through the public service commission now fixes the rates that public utility corporations shall charge, the amount of the profit they may make and the character of service to be given, hence they say they are entitled to protection from unceded for competition when they are living up to all these requirements. If they are not public recourse is to be had through application to the public service commission.

The only pronounced objection to the law comes from advocates of home rule for cities of the first-class, who wish municipal plants exempted from the certificate of necessity provision.

Rice & Rice, Roseburg, are building the Three-R garage 60 by 100.

Bandon—Rev. C. M. Knight establishing club house for young men.

Florence developing deep-sea fishing industry.

Marshfield would cut fixed city expenses $4700 a year.

Salem Brewery Association will manufacture fruit juices.

Sons of Norway will erect lodge hall at Marshfield.

On reduced tax levies up to Sunday, Portland collections were $807,903 less than in 1914 for same period.

Roseburg Sand & Gravel Company building $30,000 plant.

THE WORD "GOT."

It is Very Badly Misused, According to This Critic.

"Got" is a good English word; but, like other words, it must be employed for its specific meaning. It has only three letters in it, yet it is the most misused word on the English tongue.

"Have you a dollar?"

"No."

"Get me one, please. And after you have gotten it bring it to me."

This is all that get, got or gotten means.

One becomes, falls or grows sick. Then some relative or neighbor goes and gets the doctor. After you recover you receive the doctor's bill. In no instance do you get his bill unless you go to his office, get it and, having gotten it, take it home to reflect over the several items of his charges.

Remember this: It is impossible to "get" anything that does not possess an absolute tangibility.

Hence one cannot get a promotion, but wins it, and one cannot get rid of a thing. Stop and think how foolish and meaningless it is to say "get rid" and "got rid." "I am going to rid myself, or I have rid myself, or having rid myself of such a person or annoyance," is proper.

One gets a wife, obtains a job, gets an auto, but never "gets" into it; goes and gets a new suit of clothes, never gets the bill for it, if it is mailed to him, because in truth he receives it, and so on.

"Get his goat" of course is slang and has its own specific purposes of expression, but it is good English nevertheless, for, literally and in the proper employment of the word, a goat is one of the things one may "get"—that is, go over to where the goat is, tie a rope around its neck and lead billy home.

Just this, and absolutely nothing else, is what the word "get" means.

Dictionaries may tell you differently, but even then the best lexicographers admit they must write their books to conform with the latter day usage of words. In the next breath also they will tell you that pure language has no worse enemy than this very same helter skelter usage that we are too prone to fall back upon in defense of our many errors in speech.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Exchange Suggested.

One evening as he sat gloomily reading the paper, having grumbled at the dinner, the dog, the baby, the cook and everything else that came along, his wife made a suggestion.

"Bertie," she said, "would it not be a good thing to rearrange your business?"

"Yes; I might rearrange it into a rag and bone dealer's. It would probably pay better. But I don't quite see how to do it," he answered, with concentrated sarcasm.

"I didn't mean that exactly," she answered sweetly. "But could you not manage to be a bear at the office instead of at home?"—Omaha Bee.

She Could Spell.

She critically examined the gold sleeve links which were set before her and then requested the clerk to show her another line. She decided on a pair, murmuring to herself, "Yes; I'm sure he'll like these."

"Do you care for any initials, miss?" queried the clerk. "Oh, yes; I forgot!" said she. "I think I'll use his first initial this time. You may engrave the letter 'U' on them." "U!" repeated the clerk as he wrote the instructions down. "May I inquire the name, miss, if it is Uriah or Ulysses? Names commencing with 'U' are so very rare." "Eugene," replied the young woman proudly.—Exchange.
