A School Fracas

The Assembly Room in the High School building was the scene on last Tuesday morning of a lively fracas between Professor Bones and a student by the name of George Stevens. Mr. Bones seems to have gotten the worst of the pugilistic encounter. The affair was witnessed by only one boy who happened into the room at the time. We are told that there has been bad feeling between the two for some time. Professor Bones undertook to correct the young man by means of slapping him in the face with a book. Young Stevens did not take very kindly to this sort of correction and proceeded to make the Professor stretch arms length with him the young man being too swift with his dukes. landed a Willard knock-out on the Professor's "physiognomy" just as the referee called time. The bout only lasted two rounds and Bones was no match for his antagonist.

The School Board may take a hand in the matter and no doubt will endeavor to expell the young man, but if the facts as given are true, Mr. Bones had no right to strike him in the face with a book and he got just what he deserved. There are other ways to correct an unruly pupil, especially a young man of Steven's age and if he cannot be made to respect a teacher, the manner and conduct of such a pupil should be referred to the school board who have the power to expel a pupil not obeying his superior.—Independence Enterprise.

Pioneer Club Woman Visits City

Mrs. Adelia D. Wade of Los Angeles has been an interested and delighted visitor in Monmouth for the last week.

Mrs. Wade was for many years a resident of Eastern Oregon, and a well known club woman, having organized the Oregon Federation of Womens Clubs, was the federations first president for four years, and is still an honorary president of that organization.

Mrs. Wade was a pioneer worker in Oregon along all the lines of women's endeavor, the higher education, manual training in schools, library and civic work, and is enthusiastic over the great improvement she finds every where since she has been in Oregon, and believes the Willamette Valley in springtime the veritable beauty spot of the Pacific Coast.
