The heavy frost of two weeks ago appears to have been much more destructive in some localities than in others. A. J. Shipley was in Monmouth Monday and a HERALD reporter learned from him that the frost had done but very little damage to fruit at his place. In some places the prune crop was hit hard while in others it is reported to have escaped fairly well so that generally speaking there will be more fruit in this part of the state than was thought just after the frost. It is believed that there will be ample for the home consumption.

The Boy Scout Movement in Monmouth under the leadership of Raymond Cornwell, the Scout Master, is becoming better established each day. The Movement offers to the boy a chance for growth and development. Friday we witnessed the investiture of the Second Class Scout to five Scouts, which marked the second step of the local organization. There are three classes of Scouts: A new member becomes a tenderfoot; after a month's service he may, upon passing ten requirements, become a Second Class Scout. The troop has been working toward the Second Class Scout. Five boys have successfully met the ten requirements. They are Denzel Moore, Patrol Leader of Wolf, Clay Moreland, the assistant of the Wolf, Maurice Gentle and Maxwell Bowersox of the Wolves, and Willie Harvey of the Eagle Patrol.

On Friday afternoon at their regular meeting the Mayor of our city, Mr. Johnson, talked to the Scouts on "Good Government," showing the workings of our city's government and how that by following their twelve laws the Scouts may become good citizens. The talk was enjoyed by all as was evinced by their clapping and by the note of thanks and appreciation to Mr. Johnson which they passed. After the talk came the investiture procedure and the five above-mentioned boys were officially declared Second Class Scouts. This not only marks a step in the local organization but it is a great step in advance in the life of each boy. It is said we are a part of all with which we come in contact. We are ever in the work of character building. Character development is the main idea of the movement and that is always uppermost in the minds of its leaders. The five boys who have become congratulated for their advancement and helped to work to become Second Class Scouts. Many of the rest of the Scouts have met nearly all of the ten requirements and by a little extra hard work will be able to advance to Second Class Scouts in a short time. A SCOUT.

Has Narrow Escape

Mr. A. J. Flum, whose home is at the corner of Burch and Cherry streets, was quite seriously injured while cutting wood a short distance northwest of Dallas last Friday afternoon. He was felling a dead tree, a portion of whose branches were entangled in another tree close by, and in order to dislodge it he found it necessary to cut it down. While in this act he was struck on the head and shoulder by falling branches, cutting a deep gash in his head and rendering him unconscious. It was fully two hours before he recovered sufficiently to return home. Besides the gash in the head, the unfortunate man was badly bruised on the head, neck and arms. The limb that struck Mr. Flum was about a foot through. He is eighty-two years of age. — Observer.
