Tribute to Late Mrs. Hembree

One by one the pioneers of Oregon pass on from the land which they helped tame and make prosperous. We learn with regret of the death of Mrs. J. T. Hembree of Lafayette. Mrs. Hembree crossed the plains in 1843. Her husband came in the same train. For seventy years they had lived and worked together in Yamhill county, and leave a legacy of sturdy, fearless work behind them for their children. One of these is C. P. Hembree of Monmouth, among the famous Jersey breeders of the northwest.—Oregon Farmer.
