Seniors Take Third Victory

By Earl Brunk

The Seniors and Juniors of the Normal played baseball again last Friday afternoon; a game difficult to tell what the results would be until it was all over.

In the first inning the Seniors were able to get three hits off Tallman. Rogers led off with a two bagger to right field and Ostien followed with a two base hit to deep center. Brumbaugh then connected up for a single. Houck and Jack Wood handled the big stick in such a way as to result in tallies for the Seniors. Everybody batted during this inning and Rogers batted twice. The Seniors were able to score four runs.

The Juniors also started the game with "pep," as Brown, the first man up, was able to score. Tallman got as far as second base and then was put out on the line.

In the second inning Brumbaugh got a two bagger and Jack Wood a single. Jack Wood started for third base and Work was going to second and Ivan Wood knocked a ground ball. This was a case of forced runs and Jack Wood was out at third and Work and Ivan Wood were out at second and first, respectively. The Seniors scored one run.

In the third inning the Juniors scored two runs, secured by Brown and Anderson. Anderson got a single which resulted in a score.

The Seniors made two hits and two runs.

The fourth inning was over in just a very short time as only one Junior and one Senior got as far as second base.

In the fifth inning there were two down for the Seniors when Houck came to bat. He was successful in scoring a home run.

It was during this time when the Seniors seemed to be on the losing side. Butler lead off and scored. Lund followed him in like manner. Brown got a walk; Powell and Anderson both secured singles in the neighborhood of the short stop; Tallman and Evans were safe at first on errors. Doak fanned; Reusser got a walk. Butler was out by Wright throwing the ball to the short stop. Evans was out at home. The inning resulted in six runs for the Juniors, which tied the score.

In the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth innings, Tallman fanned three and allowed three singles.

Houck pitched the last five innings for the Seniors. He struck out six and allowed two walks; Also one single hit and two two-base hits.

During the ninth inning the Juniors made a double play. Rogers knocked a fly ball to Butler, the short stop, and Butler put out Ivan Wood who was on the line between second and third bases.

The game was to be only seven innings, but ten innings were necessary to finish the game. Lund got a single to right field, stole second and third and later was able to score. Tallman made the third out when he knocked a fly ball to the pitcher.

In this inning Ostien and Brumbaugh were on bases and Houck got a single in left field, which resulted in two runs, thus ending the game 11 to 10 in favor of the Seniors.

Juniors Play Ball

A feature of Decoration day in Monmouth was a ball game between the grammar school nines of Independence and Monmouth, and staged on the high school track. Five innings was the limit decided on at the beginning of hostilities and when the end of the fifth found Monmouth ahead to the tune of 6 to 4 they insisted on quitting. Independence wanted to play longer in the hope of better luck but agreed to allow the game to the Monmouth lads if they would play a few more innings for fun and practice. The extra innings would not have changed results materially for the tide of battle still held with Monmouth.

Melvin Ray officiated in the pitching box for Independence. He had a wind-up that would have done credit to a major-leaguer and reminded one of an eight day clock. His good temper made him friends among the spectators. James Higinbottom was on the mound for Monmouth and did well. Ellis Fisher caught.

Louis Murdock and family of Salem were visiting with Monmouth relatives from Saturday to Tuesday morning. Mr. Murdock discovered while here that he has a broken rib as the result of strenuous practice with pupils in Salem, over whom he presides as teacher of mathematics and physical training. A number of his boys tried to take the teacher down with their united efforts. In the skirmish had his south-west rib cracked. The injury caused so little pain that Mr. Murdock did not know the extent of the injury until examined in Monmouth a day or two after the injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Judd celebrated Decoration day by welcoming a nine pound daughter to their home circle. Both mother and child are getting along nicely.
