Mr. and Mrs. Ivan B. Rhodes and daughter, Mary Louise, of Portland came down Sunday evening and are visiting Mrs.
Rhodes' mother, Mrs. C. W.
Stengel. Mr. Rhodes went to Corvallis Monday from which point he will return to Portland Wednesday. Mrs. Rhodes and daughter will visit in Monmouth for a month or so. Mrs. A. H.
Ebbert and Stewart put in their Myers of Portland will also visit Mrs. Stengel the last of this week.

The gentleman who was in Monmouth last week on the mission of preparing citizens to increase their stock of internal sunshine by removing corns, has departed. He labored at the barber shop and a satisfied grin on the countenances of several of our prominent citizens attest the success of his treatment. Messrs.
for a month or so. Mrs. A. H.
time to good advantage while the doctor was here and are prepared to relieve aggravated cases of this nature. They also have become catarrh cure experts, offering relief to all who apply.

Because the whiskers grown while a soldier in the south made him look more like a French count than a candidate for office, H. Robb candidate for surveyor has shaved the said whiskers and is again recognizable by friends.
He tells about it in an adv. in another column.

The work of the rural mail carrier has been lightened this fall by the improvement of Baker lane west of this city. The road has been graded and covered with 18 inches of gravel and a new bridge built, the best work on this mile and a half stretch that has been done since it was laid out.

$25.00 will buy an up-to-date drop head sewing machine. Why pay more? Moore & Walker, Complete Home Furnishers, Independence, Oregon.

E. L. Dorn is agent for an auction at Walnut farm, a mile south of Monmouth, Friday, October 27th, consisting of 8 cows, 3 heifers, 30 sheep, 2 sows, 9 shoats, agricultural machinery, etc. M. F. White, auct.

Several candidates were in this week to announce their political aspirations through the columns of the Herald. For a list of these good men and true the reader is referred to their cards.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Guthrie are at Harrisburg this week-end visiting with relatives. W. F.
Elliott, a brother-in-law, and a former resident of Monmouth, is mayor of Harrisburg.
