

Thrift day. What is it?

Have you learned about THRIFT DAY. It is a part of the thrift campaign of interest to every one. Read of it elsewhere in this issue of the Herald.

Utilize your time fully. Don't loaf. Use judgment in the purchase of necessities. Don't be a spendthrift even in small matters.

Some one wisely said "Thrift requires that money should be used and not abused; that it should be honestly earned and economically employed." Save a definite portion of your income for future investment. Make the start on thrift day. Call and we will explain one way.

Rural Teachers Hold Meeting

The eleventh zone meeting was held Saturday at the Guthrie school where many faithful teachers gathered for the social and intellectual feast.

The work was not begun until about ten o'clock, due to some tardy ones, who forgot the school motto, "Promptness and Thoroughness." However, when the work began it commanded attention until the good hostesses declared their meal was ready for the hungry visitors.

The morning session was devoted to observation work. Supervisor Moore repeated his reading discussion which has been enjoyed at the other zone meetings, then he demonstrated the principles with a second grade class. This was followed by class work with the fourth and seventh grades in language.

Lunch was served the guests at 12:30 which was not at all of secondary importance, as it was excellent in quality and quantity.

After lunch Miss Phillips of Guthrie offered some good class work with the fourth grade and unquestionably proved her interest in better reading in our schools.

Mrs. Anna Forrette of North Dallas gave some busy work instructions which were significant in import.

The last class instruction was a seventh grade language class conducted by Mr. Moore after which the good patrons of the district were offered a vote of thanks and all went their way.

This meeting was well attended. Superintendent Crowley and Supervisor Moore were well pleased with the true Oregonian progressive spirit shown by those who came. Unfortunately some teachers were unable to attend on account of illness so all who should have had the English work will not get it at these zone meetings this year.

The teachers attending were Miss Mildred Chapin of Oakhurst, Miss Martha Skersies of Antioch, Mrs. Anna Forrette of North Dallas, Miss Ellen De Haven of Spring Valley, Miss Rose Page of Sunny Slope, Miss Georgia Curtiss of Oakdale, Miss Eugenia Phillips of Guthrie, Mr. Peter Berg of Orchards, Mr. J. I. Reasoner of Liberty, and Mr. Lester Gardner of Bridgeport.

The children who kindly gave up their Saturday frolic for the good work were: Second Grade—Warren and Harry Welton of the Guthrie school; Fourth Grade—Ethel Monkers, Leota Smallman, Oscar Bilieu and Cecil Guthrie of the Guthrie school; Seventh Grade—Rena Wilson and Ralieg Middleton of North Dallas.

The hostesses were Mrs. Messerlie, Mrs. Bilieu, Mrs. Guthrie and Mrs. Nelson. The hosts were Mr. Monkers and Mr. Pepper.

The teachers who failed to come were Miss Cora Gay of Polk Station, Miss Sarah Toeves of Orchard View, Mrs. Ethel Stow of Mistletoe and Mr. Frank Neal of Pioneer.

Schools having six or more rooms: Third Grade—First place, Independence 95.7; second place, Monmouth 95.1. Fourth Grade—First place, Monmouth 96.9; second place, Independence 91.4. Fifth Grade—First place, Monmouth 98.8; second place, Independence 93. Sixth Grade—First place, Monmouth 98.4; second place, Independence 85. Local Brevities

Ed Griffa departed for Portland Wednesday with the intention of taking in the sights of the metropolis.

C. E. Frazier took a few days off from duty on the I. & M. last week and spent the time in Portland.

Little Robert Nichols, Jr., and his mother arrived this week from Omaha, Neb., to enjoy a visit with his grandfather, J. W. Howell. The Nichols came the southern route and visited for a while with a sister and aunt, Mrs. C. J. Stanton, in Los Angeles. Mr. Nichols, who has been in the wall paper and stationery business in Omaha, has been advanced to a position in New York City and has gone east to get settled when his family will join him, about a month from now. Omaha is quite a ways away but New York is still farther and it is expected that in the future visits between Robert, Jr., and his grandfather will be more infrequent.
