To Everyone

Army life is more agreeable and better morally, physically and mentally than my greatest expectations and except for being absent from my family and needed at home, I would be ashamed to be any place except in the Army.

At present I am on the inactive list, subject to call and any time I am needed in the Army more than at home I am ready and glad to go when my country calls.

Elkins Rural Center

The two months Sunday school contest between the "reds" and "blues" ended by a very pleasant social evening at the schoolhouse. About eighty people enjoyed games, contests, music and a community sing. Next Sunday marks the beginning of a similar contest with the Fairview Sunday school. Both schools are about evenly matched and an interesting contest is expected.

Frank McEldowney and Violet Denney who were chosen delegates to the County Sunday School Convention at Falls City left last Friday morning with Mrs. E. A. Tedrow for that place.

Miss Carson went to Dallas last Friday evening to attend the concert given by the Willamette University Glee Club, and on Saturday and Sunday she attended the Convention.

E. A. Tedrow has been having a light attack of the German measles.

After two "Community Clean-up" days and a very busy month, the pupils and patrons of Elkins are looking forward anxiously to know the result of the contest between the three rural training school communities for the flag.

The plot for the school garden has been plowed, new cement steps placed at the end of the school house walk, the play shed cleaned, the fence straightened, and brush cleaned. Almost every one in the Community came and worked together on these clean-up days. The ladies served dinner in the basement.

The Parent-Teacher Association in addition to purchasing a rug for the school reading room, have given white oil cloth sufficient to cover the lunch tables in the basement.

The student teachers who are at Elkins at present are: Sylvia Severance, Banks, Oregon, Minnie Hogue, Kent, Oregon, Velma Kizer, Albany, Oregon, Teresa Devereaux, Bandon, Oregon, and Malinda and Sarah May, Wasco, Oregon.

Dr. L. C. Price of this city has been chosen as one of the delegates from the Dallas chapter of Daughters of the Revolution to the state conference to be held in Portland in March.

Mrs. Boche has resumed her regular business of dressmaking and old patrons as well as new will find her willing and ready to serve. Corner Echols and Jackson streets. 4t
