Normal Literary Society Reports

The first meeting of the new semester of the Delphian and Vespertine Societies of the O. N. S. was held in the chapel Friday evening, March the first. The program consisted of a piano solo by Lyrel Morris of the Delphians, a vocal solo by Marion Robertson of the Vespertines, a piano solo by Edna Cone of the Vespertines and a vocal solo by Gaynelle Shore of the Delphians, with violin accompaniment by Gert-rude Rogers. The societies then adjourned to their respective meeting places for initiation of new members and installation of officers.

The newly installed officers of the Delphians are: Ruth Worden, president; Olga Wikberg, vice-president; Margaret Peattie, secretary; Muriel Paul, treasurer; Sue Graap, sergeant-at-arms; Emma Rueter, recorder.

Miss Worden, the new president, addressed the society in a brief, gracious speech of which the keynote was the necessity of cooperation for successful work.

After a strenuous half hour of initiation, new members were welcomed into the society at a reception in their honor in the new wing of the building, which had been transformed for the occasion by the committee in charge.

The Vespertine Society held its first meeting of this semester last Friday night for the purpose of installation and initiation.

During the joint program a piano solo was given by Edna Cone and a song by Marion Robertson. They were both well given and were very enjoyable.

The new officers installed for this semester were as follows: Secretary, Clara Nelson; Treasurer, Grace Snook; Sergeant-at-arms, Eva Mary Beekman; Reporter, Lena Hughes.

On account of illness, Madeline Logan, our president, was unable to be present for the installation.

After the initiation of the members, we then prepared for a general good time. The society was divided up alphabetically and each group had to represent some kind of a march. The first group gave a wedding march; the second, a college march; the third, a march representing "When Johnnie Comes Marching Home". Lastly, was a Dutch folk dance given by eight of the girls. The evening was a great pleasure to both old members and new.
