White Leghorn Occupies Front Nest In Chickendom

Say do you know that when you purchase Leghorn hatching eggs from my flock, you are securing eggs from the blood line that won the world's championship laying contest at the Panama Exposition at San Francisco in 1915? Well you are. The choicest egg producers from all parts of the world contesting.

All of my hens and pullets are mated to cockerels that are grandsons of hen E. 248, record 302 eggs in one year. The first 300 egg hne known of.

Part of them are grandsons of hen Oregonia, having a record of 1176 eggs in 6 years, some laying strain! You can buy eggs from general Leghorn flocks but to get them of this quality is a bird of another color. The Barred Rocks for the heavier breeds are the hen for those who prefer a general utility fowl.

A setting of 15 eggs of either variety for $1.00

Can Resell Bonds

Some misapprehension regarding the word "convertibility", used in connection with Third Liberty Loan Bonds, seems to have arisen in the minds of the public, according to letters received at State Liberty Loan Headquarters, some persons confusing the term with negotiability.

Edward Cookingham, state executive chairman, gave out the following statement Saturday, regarding the meaning of the words:

"I would like to make it plain to all purchasers of bonds that the Third Loan Bonds are both negotiable and transferable and in that respect do not differ at all from the First and Second issues of Liberty Bonds.

"The word 'convertibility' has no reference whatever to the negotiability of the bonds. This particular issue is not 'convertible' into any other bonds which may be issued later in the war, but that does not mean that the bonds are not negotiable or transferable or deliverable in the freest possible manner at any time and to any person who may purchase the bonds or to whom the holder may desire to transfer them."

Official pamphlets containing detailed information regarding Third Liberty Loan Bonds may had from State Liberty Loan Headquarters, 222 Northwestern Bank Building, Portland, for the asking.
