Through the Bureau of Navigation the Navy Department is now collecting photographs of all men of the service who have lost their lives in service against the enemy. To perpetuate the memory of these men who have made the sacrifice their pictures are to be preserved in the various training stations of the country. It is requested that these photographs be sent to the Department by the next of kin.

As rapidly as these pictures are received copies are made and the originals returned to the owners.

A photograph of each man is then forwarded to the training station where he began his career in the service. There, a memorial gallery of honor or a hero's corner is formed so that for all time the faces of the men of the Navy who have made the supreme sacrifice may be honored by the youths of the future sent to the station for training.

Relatives of men who have been lost in the present war who have not received requests for pictures are asked to mail them to the department for this memorial. All pictures should be securely wrapped after they have been marked with the name, branch of service and training station the young man entered after enlistment. These should be addressed to the Recruiting Division, Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, Washington, D. C. When copied, the photograph will be returned to the sender with one of the copies.

The Quartermaster's Department is now supplying gas-proof food containers to the soldiers in the zone of operations in France. These containers prevent seepage of gas into the containers and guard against the contamination of the food. The men carry their emergency rations in the containers and all food brought up to the trenches is carried in the new tins.

After the food is packed in the containers they are hermetically sealed. It is planned to use paraffine for sealing as it settles in the crevices in such a way that it must be cut before the lids can be taken off. It can be applied by running the containers through a paraffine bath.

Because the supply of tin is limited and there may not be enough to supply the needs of the Army the Quartermaster's Department is experimenting with the wax paper box. Tests made show that these boxes meet all conditions satisfactorily. The tins and boxes both are vermin and water proof.

The University of Oregon Summer Training Camp offers military training for: 1. Men of draft age. It will help them to obtain early promotions and commissions when drafted. 2. Business and professional men over draft age. It will enable them to put themselves into a high state of physical and military preparedness ready to train home guard and militia units, ready for early promotion in case the draft age is raised, ready to accept appointments to the officers' training camps the next time a general call is made—four calls upon civilians have already been made—two quotas were filled on University of Oregon recommendations in May, 1918, alone. 3. Home guard officers and men. It will enable them to raise their units to a higher state of efficiency. 4. High School teachers. It will enable them to introduce military training into their schools or increase its efficiency where it has already been introduced. 5. University and High School students. It will qualify them for promotion in R. O. T. C. and other training units. 6. Scout leaders. It will give them many new ideas in leadership.—U. of O. Bulletin.

Foundation and Operation

In addition to being a National bank, and subject to the Laws and Regulations of the United States Government, this institution is a member of the great Federal Reserve System—which not only brings added protection for the funds carried on deposit here—but affords the advantage of being able to keep our resources liquid for meeting the legitimate requirements of patrons.

If you are too far away to bank here personally, let us explain our BANK-BY-MAIL service.
