

The Herald

Entered as second-class matter September, 1906, in the post office at Monmouth, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

RICHARD B. SWENSON
Editor & Publisher

MONMOUTH, OREGON

ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY

FRIDAY, MAR. 21, 1919

Subscription Rates

One year	$1.50
Six months	75 cts
Three months	50 cts

Monmouth Meditations

The more we see of the work of Governor Olcott the more is our first impression confirmed that his will be a safe and sane administration.

We feel morally certain that nothing will have to be nailed down as long as the Sunday School workers are in town. Neither is it at all likely they will spend their leisure time kicking the waste paper can around Main street as certain of our youthful citizens do.

In his plea for clemency for Albers in Portland recently, Attorney McGinn stated that if it had been a poor man who had uttered the sentiments attributed to Albers it would have gone unnoticed. Which is probably true. It is also true that the words of Albers carried a greater weight than the words of a poor man would have done. The scriptural assertion that "to whom much is given of him is much required" is literally true. No man can possess wealth or influence and not have greater responsibilities than one who possesses neither. As civilization grows older it must acquire stronger recognition of the fact that wealth and influence are common assets which can not be misapplied by those who happen to possess them without wrong to the whole of society.

The popular endorsement of Mr. Booth, member of the highway commission, whose contemplated resignation brought out an avalanche of protests indicates not only that the people of the state approve of what he has already done as a commissioner but they have faith as to his future performances. The people of the state desire that justice shall be done in the road making about to be undertaken this year and also are anxious that business efficiency shall characterize the progress of the work.

It would be practical evidence of public spirit in Monmouth to see positive encouragement given to deserving business. W. A. Green is making a conscientious effort to give Monmouth a suitable hotel. The Greens are courteous, obliging and enterprising and should be given encouragement. Likewise the Hustons are giving Monmouth a good market and are deserving all of the patronage they are receiving.

We notice that sterling democrat, Henry Watterson, has changed states and is now "from Missouri" as far as the league of nations is concerned. He is president of an association which is investigating the plan in a critical manner.

The promoters of the "No beer, no work" strike did well to call it off. A practical test of it would have demonstrated just how strong the booze sentiment is among the workers of America. We also would like to have a test made among the disbanding soldiers to see just how popular John Barleycorn is among them. Our surmise is that booze is mainly popular among the men who have in some degree profited through it.

We were pleased to note the conviction of the man Fullerton in Eugene who brought accusations of immorality against the faculty and student body of the university. Fullerton is evidently a specimen of that foul brood which occasionally arise to cast such discredit as they can on their fellow citizens. There are too many citizens who are ready to believe and repeat accusations that would discredit their associates, especially if the latter are a notch or two above them in the social scale. In this case the accuser was invited to do his worst and was able to prove literally nothing. The trial has enhanced the reputation of the university and freshens the courage of optimistic people who have faith in humanity and in modern civilization.

Somehow, we cannot believe the president has been correctly quoted in his attitude toward the league of peace covenant which the Senate has announced it will refuse to confirm. Or if he is correctly quoted, he will, when the proper time comes, change his mind. He has changed his mind before on several historic occasions. If both sides should persist in a disagreement, however, and the matter comes up as a campaign issue in 1920 we are not at all sure the league idea will carry. To our recollection this as an issue presents some startling comparisons with the silver issue in 1896. Every one then was for bimetallism, just as now everybody is for some sort of a league of nations. In the campaign of 1896, the Democrats were openly for free silver and the Republicans did not dare to take a stand in favor of the gold standard. They were for silver as well as gold, with a number of "ifs" and "buts" attached. So in 1920 they would be for a league of nations, qualified with a number of "ifs" and "buts". And they would have more than an even chance of winning. If the president really wishes to see the league idea prevail he must adopt a more conciliatory attitude toward the rights of the Senate. And this we expect him to do.

We expect it will always be so and as long as records are kept and studied it will be human to take an interest in the deeds of war. Lord Byron says there is but one page to history, and we surmise that a large portion of that page is devoted to accounts of savage encounters of men. There is no battle in the war just ended that will grip the attention of the reader to quite the same extent as Belleau wood. The story of how the handful of marines who when told to fall back slowly before that steadily pressing mass of Germans, said they did not know how to go backward, that they were going forward, will be singled out as one of this war's great events. That was where the ebbing tide turned and started inland again. Under the skilled direction of Foch the returning tide was so directed that it overwhelmed the Germans. One of the marines who gave up his life in that critical battle enlisted from Monmouth. Four others from this vicinity laid down their lives in the subsequent struggles. For the sake of its heroic dead as well as commemorating the actions of all who had a part in this epoch marking struggle, we believe it only fitting that Monmouth should erect a proper memorial.

J. Winegar has received the county agency for the Waterloo Boy tractor which is put out by the company which has probably sold more gas engines than all other makes combined. The Waterloo Boy tractor uses kerosene for power, however, and has a high reputation among farmers.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, For Polk County.
R. C. Clostermann, Plaintiff vs. F. H. Pepper, and C. E. Shaw, Defendants.

To F. H. Pepper, of above named defendants:

In the Name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, within forty-five (45) days from the date of the first publication of this Summons, to-wit:—on or before the 22nd day of April, 1919, that date being more than six weeks from the date of the first publication of this Summons, and if you fail so to appear and answer said complaint, for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief in the complaint demanded and prayed for, to-wit:

For a decree against defendants foreclosing that certain Chattel Mortgage made by defendants to Paul Wessinger and Henry Wagner, Trustees, recorded in Book 4, page 230, Records of Chattel Mortgages, Polk County, Oregon: For a judgment against defendants for $3417.41, and $300.00 attorney's fees, and interest on said sums at 6 per cent from February 21st, 1919, and for the costs and disbursements of this suit, and that execution issue therefor: That plaintiff be decreed to have a first, prior and subsisting lien upon the property described in said Chattel Mortgage, for the amounts for which judgment is prayed for and rendered against them: That the property in said Mortgage described be sold by the Sheriff of Polk County, Oregon, and the proceeds thereof be applied towards the payment of said judgment, and that if the proceeds should be insufficient to pay the same, that plaintiff have a judgment against defendants for the deficiency: That defendants be barred and foreclosed of and from all right, title and interest and equity in and to the mortgaged property, and for such other relief as to the Court may seem equitable.

This Summons is served on you by publication thereof, in accordance with the order of Hon. Harry H. Belt, Judge of the above entitled Court, dated February 28th, 1919, which order directed such publication in The Monmouth Herald, once a week for Six (6) successive weeks: the date of the first publication being March 7th, 1919, and the date of the last publication being April 18th, 1919.

J. SILVESTONE,
Attorney for Plaintiff,
Post Office Address, 522, 523
Lumbermens Building, Portland
Oregon.

Monmouth Transfer and Feed Stable

All kinds of transferring done promptly and on short notice

FRANK SKEEN, Proprietor.

Monmouth, Oregon

Don't Start The New Year

with a disabled or halting timepiece. Bring it to me and have it put in order.

WALTER G. BROWN

Watches and Jewelry. Repairing

Books, Stationery

Candy, Cigars
Electric Light Bulbs
Souvenirs

MORLAN & SON

Monmouth's largest and most complete Confectionery and Book Store

For any thing you want or don't want try our bargain column. It will buy or sell for you.

CITY MEAT MARKET

Huston Bros. Props.

Fresh and Smoked Meats

We buy veal and hides Phone 2302

We are in the market for all the Beef Cattle you have and will pay top market prices
Sell Us Your Beef Cattle

INSURANCE!

On City or Farm Insurance, on three or five year policies, we take notes payable in yearly installments.

Bonds of all sorts sold.

Let us place your Insurance with old, reliable companies.

GEO. W. CHESEBRO

Jim tells it to the Boss

"Tisn't the size of a plug that counts," says Jim. "It's the way it tastes—and how it lasts. A couple of squares of Real Gravelly keeps me satisfied."

Good taste, smaller chew, longer life is what makes Genuine Gravelly cost less to chew than ordinary plug.

Write to:—
GENUINE GRAVELLY
DANVILLE, VA.
for booklet on chewing plug.

Peyton Brand
REAL CHEWING PLUG
Plug packed in pouch

An Addition to Our Line

WATERLOO BOY The Original Kerosene Tractor

In offering to you the Waterloo Boy, the Original Kerosene Burning Tractor, we believe we have selected the most practical, economical and dependable farm tractor on the market.

Points of Merit on Which Our Judgment Is Based:

PAST PERFORMANCE.. The Waterloo Boy has been a success on farms for five years. In no way is it an experiment.

ECONOMICAL.. It is a three plow tractor—most economical and practical size to use—burns kerosene perfectly without destroying lubricating oil. Its special, patented inbuilt manifold converts every drop of kerosene into pure gas—cylinders are not carbonized—spark plugs are not fouled. The perfect burning of kerosene saves the owner of the Waterloo Boy many dollars every year in cost of fuel and care of motor.

POWERFUL.. The two cylinders, with big bore and long stroke, furnish a guaranteed power of 12 H. P. at the draw bar and 25 H. P. at the belt, with ample reserve for emergencies. The Waterloo Boy pulls three plows under almost any field condition. Hyatt roller bearings at all important bearing points conserve full power. Weight of the tractor is sufficient to insure good traction for drive wheels.

SIMPLE.. Every part is easy to get at and easy to adjust or repair. It doesn't require a tractor expert to keep the Waterloo Boy in good working order. The crank case cover, the inspection plate, the upper half of gear case can all be removed for the purpose of inspection or repair—the operator can work from a standing position.

DURABLE.. Its heat-treated steel cut gears; its force and sight feed oiling system; its 14 sets of Hyatt Roller bearings at all important bearing points and its simple, powerful two-cylinder motor combined with uniformly high grade construction throughout, result in a tractor that has given and will give many years of dependable and economical service.

FOR ALL FARM WORK.. You can depend upon the Waterloo Boy in all farm power work, up to its high rated capacity. It is just as satisfactory in operating belt machines—threshers; shellers, ensilage cutters, hay balers, etc.—as it is in pulling tractor implements of all kinds.

We Want You to See the Waterloo Boy—Come In the Next Time You Are in Town
MONMOUTH HARDWARE
J. E. Winegar Proprietor
SELLING AGENT