The Jersey cow appears to be a natural web foot.

Constantinople is a rather long word but some folks assert they plan to spell it U. S.

The fact that a strawberry costs about a cent each is bound to have a marked effect on its flavor.

Ludendorff has at last discovered who won the war. Good. Now if he will probe a little further he might discover who lost it.

"One last souse" appears to be the hope of the brewers and would not it be a hard hearted congress to deny it to them?

The Kaiser has not yet been brought to the bar of justice but, he has experienced all the delights of anticipation.

While the Republicans are turning to a seasoned and tested Wood for a candidate, the Democrats may seek the goal by way of a genial and convenient Lane.

When Christopher Columbus made his first trip across the Atlantic he was over a month on the water. This week Albert Cushing Read of the NC-4 arrived in Portugal having been about 26 hours en-route. Columbus demonstrated that the earth is round and Commander Read demonstrated that it travels a little faster each year.

The bonding measures dose appears a little larger than the tablespoon can hold but you might as well look pleasant, shut your eyes and swallow. It will be good for what ails you.

It is reported that a certain Indian who has read the signs of the pig's milt, or the muskrat's fur or the length of the whiskers of the wild rice, has announced that the present summer will be dryer than either of the two past summers. Here's hazarding a guess, however, that he read the signs backward.

While no one wants to see the railroads operated as they were before the war with the grotesque features which sprung up from the effort to enforce competition, most people are agreed that the time is about ripe for a return to private direction. Given a national supervision which will guarantee a square deal to all sections the railroads may now be allowed to enter a new era of development and usefulness.

The special peace edition of the Salem Statesman which was issued within the past week is typographically a very creditable production and one which will be cherished by the many who appear therein, their relatives and friends. It is odd however to see a so-called "Roll of Honor" of the dead in the war which gives the name of only one of the five soldiers who joined the army from Monmouth and made the supreme sacrifice in the great struggle. The name of Roy Johnson appears, but Joe Clark, Theodore Holloway, John Dalrymple and Archie Davis are not mentioned.

Speaking of the complaint that the designation of the route of the highway from Holmes gap to the Benton county line was not specifically described on the election call, the Polk County Observer says, "the county court has no say regarding the route of the West Side Highway, that devolving on the highway commission, hence the latitude given that body in designating the route for the special election." This is what might be called a specious explanation. But the state commission had already announced the route. More to the point, the agreement in Dallas was based on their decision. For aside from what the state gave us Monmouth got very little consideration at the hands of the convention.

It's the Fixtures that Make the Silo

RATCHET WRENCH
A handy, reversible ratchet wrench furnished free with every silo.

DOUBLE-CABLE ANCHORS
Four double-cable with all silos over 26 ft. high. (Single cables with smaller ones.) Notice this silo is anchored at top, middle and bottom. Can't blow down or collapse when properly put up.

PATENT CABLE-TIGHTENERS
Tightens both cables at the same time with even tension. Nine inches of thread on anchor rod. Cables tightened by simply turning out above tightener.

SIX BASE ANCHORS
Six of these steel base anchors on all silos over 10 ft. in diameter. (4 with smaller ones.) Together with double-cable anchors they constitute the secure anchorage ever devised for a silo.

ANCHOR FASTENING
Anchor cables fastened to both inner and outer hoops by means of a steel U-bolt passing through stave and around both hoops.

EXTRA HEAVY STEEL STAPLES
Heavy steel staples four inches long fasten staves to both inner and outer hoops. Note that staves are also stapled to bottom hoop, a construction that cannot collapse from shrinkage of staves.

STEEL HOOPS
High grade steel hoops, 3/4-in. in diameter. Nine inches of machine-cut thread at each end. Best quality closed malleable iron lugs for connecting sections.

STEEL LADDER
Steel-step ladder. Steps every 18 inches all the way to top. Better and safer than climbing cross-bars.

LARGE DOOR OPENING
Door swings all the way back, leaving entire opening free. Requires only ten-inch clearance.

FOUR DOOR LATCHES
Four door latches, two at top and two at bottom. Prevents warping. Fits tight. Stays tight.

STEEL HINGE
Makes door twice as easy to handle as hingeless door. Doors never have to be lifted around, never get lost, are always in place.

Compare Our Fixtures with Others

There's a big difference in the "fixtures" you get at the prices asked for different silos.

Compare fixtures when you buy a silo. It is the fixtures that make a silo. Durability, security and stability are determined by the anchorage, the size, quality and number of cables, hoops, lugs and staples. Convenience and ease of getting at your silage for use are determined by the door and ladder construction.

Many silos are priced without hinged doors or ladders.

In other words, you pay as "extras" for necessary conveniences without which your silo is incomplete.

Notwithstanding our lower price, we include more and better fixtures than many who ask more for their silos. In some cases we supply more of a given item than others, as in anchorage cable. In others, our fixtures are stronger or better in whatever vital point determines their value.

Keep this ad and check our fixtures as described above, with those offered by other silos. Don't pay more and get less, or buy half a silo when you can get a complete one.
