Dallas Chautauqua Better Than Ever

Preliminary announcements are now being made for the Chautauqua to be held in Dallas during the week July 15 to 21. The program is one that will appeal to all classes of people. There is abundance of good music, clean, wholesome entertainment and a long and notable list of lectures. A leading speaker is Judge George D. Allen of Massachusetts whose subject is "The Needs of the Hour" The war story is to be told by Sergeant Gibbons, author of "A guest of the Kaiser". This famous little Canadian writer was for seven months in German prison camps. Of the prominent lecturers are Marshall Louis Mertins, author, poet and humorist, J. C. Herbsman, a stirring community lecturer who is perhaps the best known Chamber of Commerce lecturer in the West. Dr. Robert Sutcliffe, prominent writer and a lecturer discusses after the war results and Julius Caesar Nayphe brings on the first night a gorgeous lecture entertainment of the Orient which is entirely unique upon the American platform.

The big future of the musical program is Castellucci's Concert Band, under the personal direction of Omero Castellucci. Other musical events are two concerts on the opening night by the International trio, three talented musical artists, featuring Frederick De Bruin, Holland baritone, late San Francisco orchestra; The Zeidler Symphonic Quintet; the Parnells and the Earl Hipple concert company. The closing night will be joy night for everyone, opened by the Junior Pageant, "Uncle Sam's Experiment" and closed with the Hipple musical program of "musical fireworks".

Jersey Thoroughbreds Sold For High Prices

All of the dairymen of this section who are interested in pure bred Jerseys attended the sale at the Carey farm at Carlton Monday which was in a sense one of the most remarkable sales ever held on the West coast. The total proceeds of the sale were over $37,000 and one of the cows sold, St. Mawes Boise Rosarie sold for $5,100, the highest price ever paid in the west for a cow. The purchaser was the Hood farm at Lowell, Mass.

The story of the Careys and their rise as Jersey breeders, rivals the stories of gold discoveries in the early days. Twenty years ago they had nothing but an extremely hilly farm at Carlton. A neighbor went to Tennessee and bought some Jerseys of imported stock. The neighbors went broke and Carey purchased the cattle at bargain prices. Acquiring a few more cows he started his herd. In his herd was the bull known as St. Mawes. This bull was ill tempered and vicious and for this reason, so the story goes, was sold to a butcher for something like $50. There was no particular promise about him for in addition to his temper was the further indictment that he was inbred, but when he had been disposed of for a short time the fact developed that St. Mawes was one of the greatest Jerseys that ever lived. Twenty of his daughters are in the Register of Merit class and most distinctive of all, four daughters, full sisters, have the world's record as such. The cow bought by the Hoods is a grand daughter of St. Mawes. The ten day's old calf of this cow was bought by Frank Loughary of Monmouth for $2,100. Mr. Loughary brought home his $2,100 worth of Jersey in his automobile. Guy Hewitt bought Poppy's St. Mawes Waltz a four year old cow for $1550. P. O. Powell & Son bought St. Mawes Waltz 2nd, a six year old cow for $650. E. W. Staats got into the game by buying a seven month's old bull for $600. John Palmer also bought a bull of similar age for $425.

Kicking the Farmer

Lots of folks are kicking about the farmer—"the poor, misdirected, misguided, inefficient farmer"—you know how they talk. Why, they're so busy kicking about him, says that they don't realize how vastly more inefficient they are themselves. Look at the storekeeper—a lot of nerve he has, complaining about the farmer's inefficiency, when the percentage of store failures is way greater than that of farm failures!

And look at Congress—was ever anybody more inefficient than were our law-makers during the war? I should say not! Fact is, it's a popular thing—in the cities and towns—to lambaste the farmer for everybody's faults. Somebody's got to be the goat; kick the farmer, they say. But those folks are figuring without THE COUN-TRY GENTLEMAN. It is on the job for the farmer with both feet, every week, fifty-two times a year. If you want to know how, let me lend you my copy to read. After seeing only one copy, you'll say: "Put my name on the subscribers' list. How much? Only one dollar? Cheap at the price." Why not let me order for you this week?
